Debra Penolleton

Debra,
I am so glad I met you this year. I am also glad that I wasn't influenced by all the things that were told to me about you during the J.F. disaster. I think you are one of my best friends
& I will miss you
this summer.
I hope I will see you sometime.
Stay as sweet as you are and I'll see you next year.

Debra, we've been through some good times & some hope things now!
well, we've good times. Lets hope this summer!
stay as sweet as you are and I'll see you next year.
Have fun this summer!
Love,
Dey

Love,
Sue.

Debra,
Is a nice person I'm glad to know, it's been fun this past year in Spanish. I hope you'll have a fun summer and have great luck with the Books and Boys (you don't need any with the later) Well, adios!

M. E. it.
B. Smith.
(Rogers W. Moody)

Debra,
It's been great knowing you this year. I'm glad I had a chance to play for you while you cheered (you are so good). But as you know, I lie a lot. ^{HA} Have a great summer and come to see me at McDonald's.
Love ya Bang! ^{1/24}
John Bang

I really appreciated all the help you gave us which credited towards us making varsity. Thanks for all your advice and support with 25 you stay as sweet and pretty as you are. Remember Miss Head.

Debra,
Jennifer and
I really appreciated all the help you gave us which credited towards us making varsity. Thanks for all your advice and support with 25 you stay as sweet and pretty as you are. Remember Miss Head.

Love,
The Woods

Debra,
like Melissa said, thanks for all your help. And I surely appreciate you being able to put up with me through cheering. I don't know how you stood it. You are a real cute girl and I hope you have a great summer. See ya next year.

Love
Jennifer

Debra,
Good luck in cheering. I know you have enjoyed Mrs. Griffen's class. Stay sweet & hope to have some classes with you next year.

Nansemond-Suffolk Academy
Suffolk, Virginia
1976-1977
Volume XI

Many exciting events occurred after the 1976 SCROLL went to press. The 1977 edition begins its coverage with these events.

The spring of 1976 was a great one for the Saints. It brought to a close a fabulous school year. The spring of 1976 also brought N.S.A. many victories. The golf and baseball teams were champions.

For the juniors and seniors the spring brought the most exciting event of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom. The junior class spent many hours in preparation, but when the big night finally arrived, they discovered that all their hard work was well worth the effort.

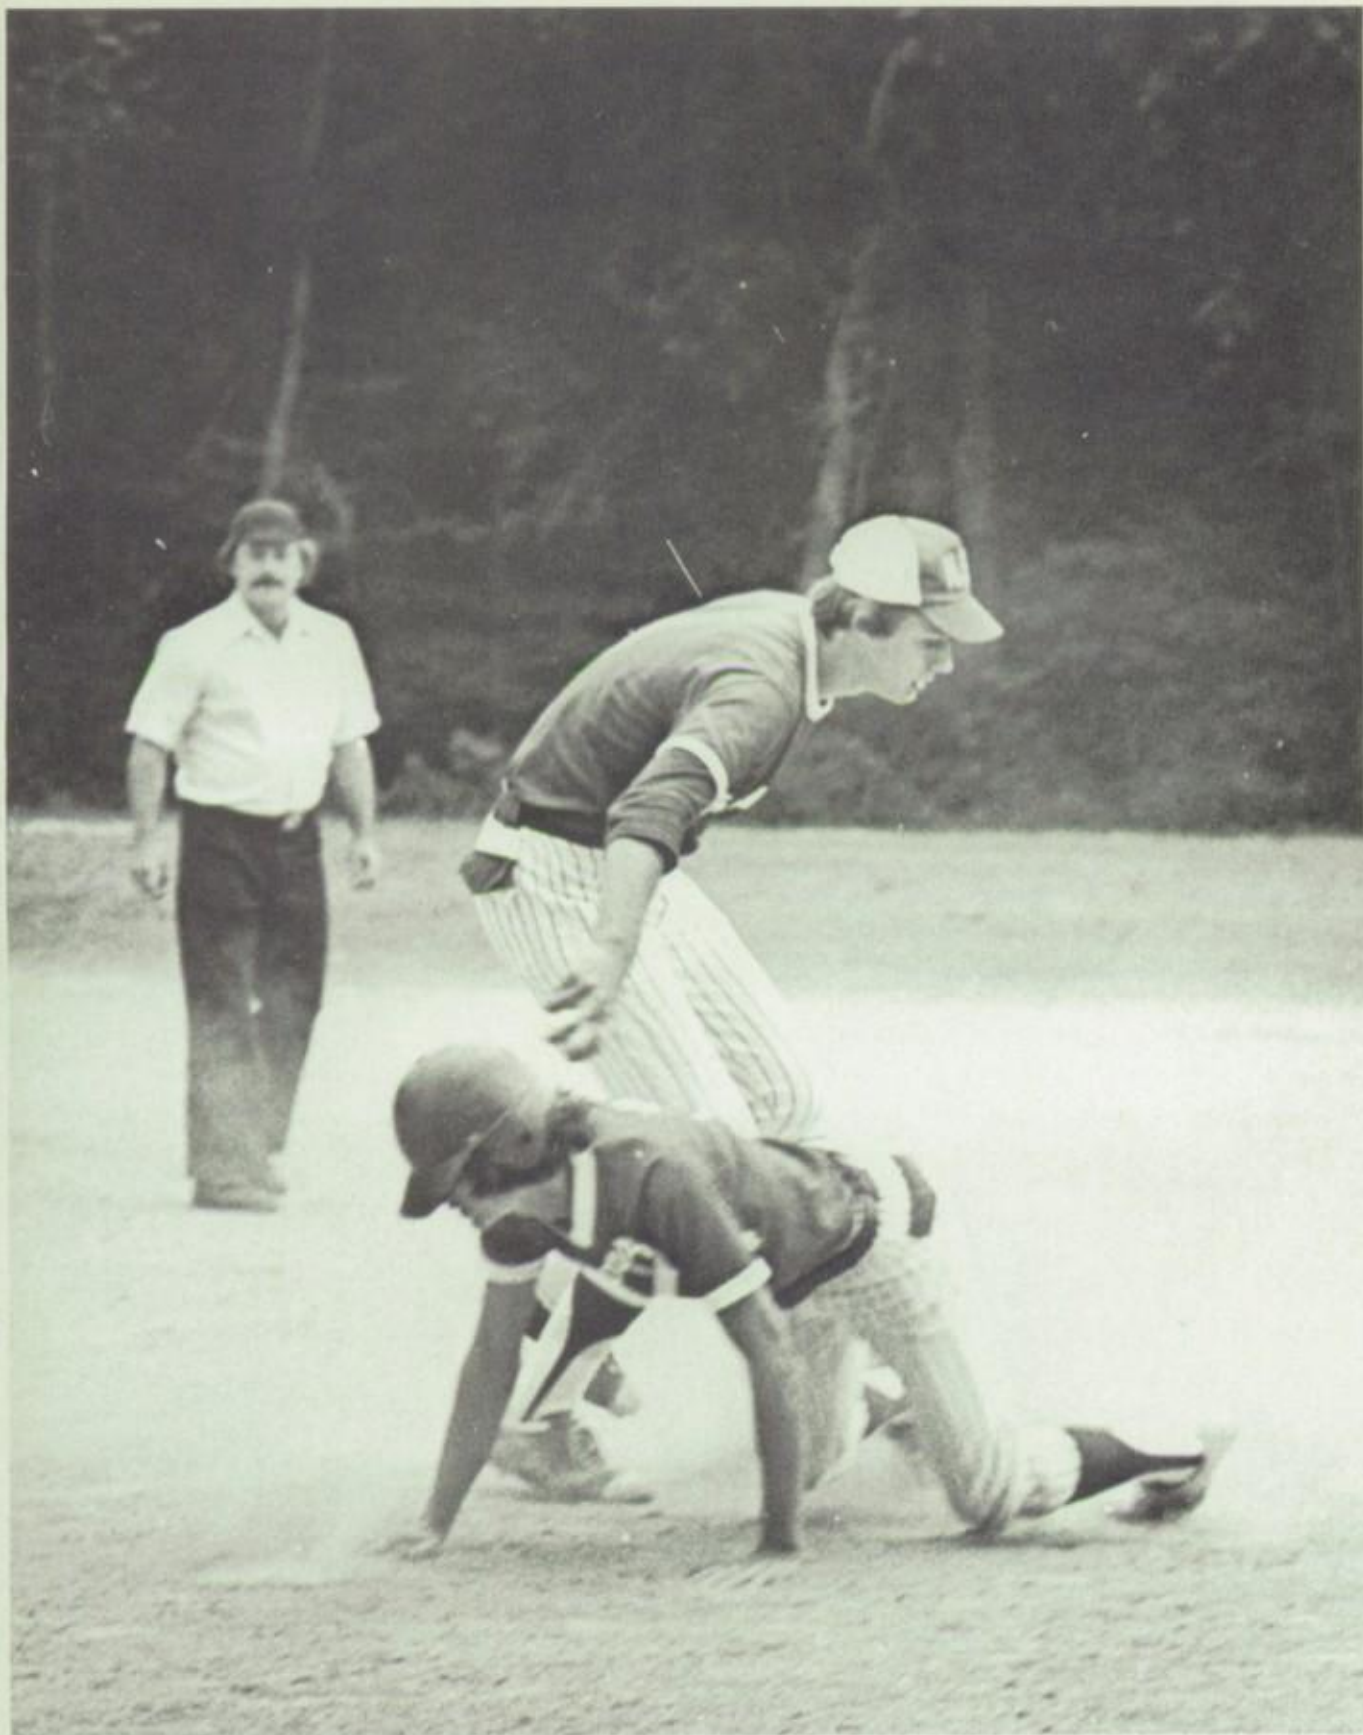

The spring heralded cheering tryouts and Student Council elections. Candidates for Student Council were nominated and fierce campaigning began. The highlight of the campaign was the addressing of the student body by the candidates. The following morning ballots were cast in home-room and officers were elected.

The close of the school year approached as did exams. Anxiously awaiting summer vacation, the student body struggled through these tests.

Between exams and summer vacation the class of '76 graduated. For some members of N.S.A. the occasion was joyous. For others it was sad. The seniors had struggled through five long years, and finally received their reward.

Summer vacation came and each member of N.S.A. went his separate way. Some went on trips, some worked. Still others stayed home and relaxed.

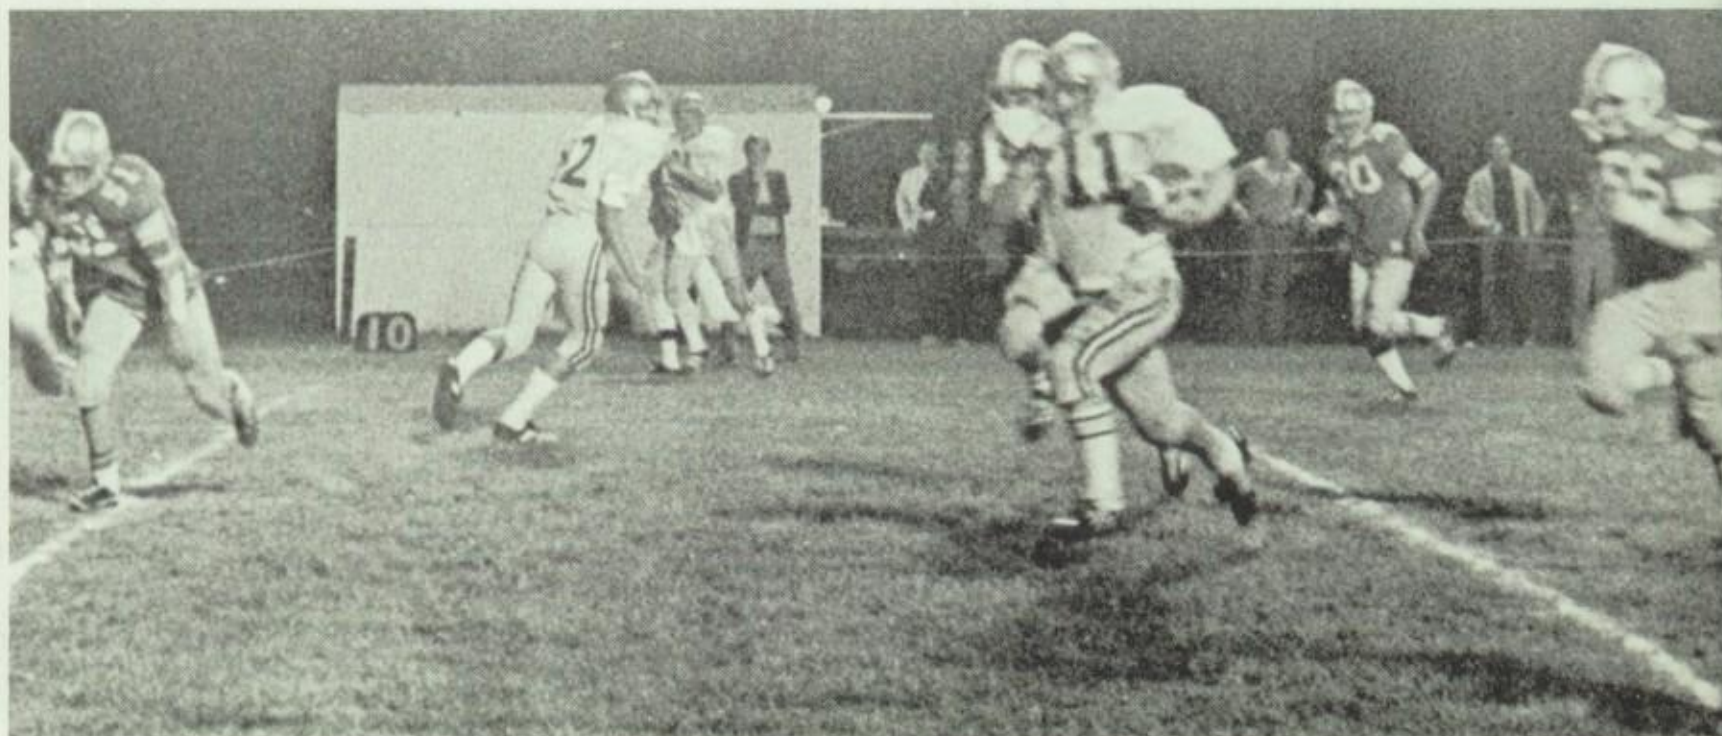

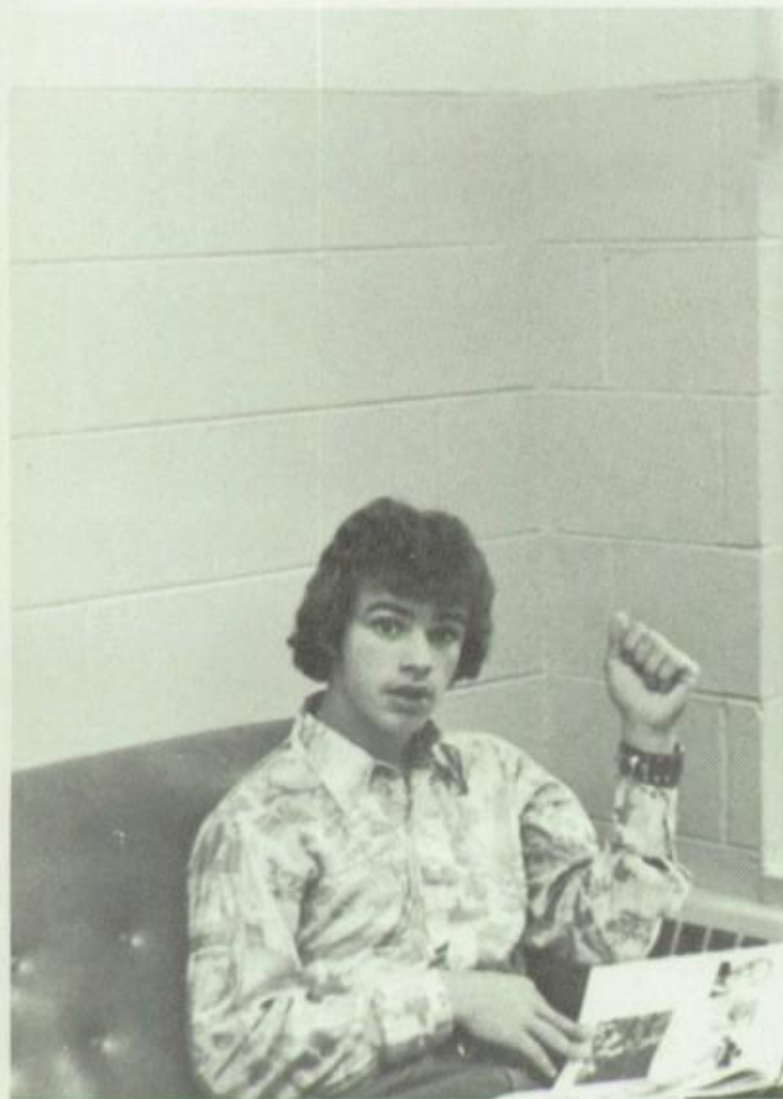

September came and brought N.S.A. back together. As Students entered N.S.A. in the 1976-77 school year, they were confronted with a wide variety of circumstances. What courses should they take? In which activities should they become involved? Should they be individuals or part of the crowd? These decisions affected what their lives would be — then, as well as in future years.

Once involved, the students settled down to school life. They were met by a new headmaster, Mr. Bill Owen. Football season and homecoming were two events that were greatly enjoyed by students.

Football began a long time before school started. Several long hard days of practice in August were experienced by the 1976 football squad. The first game of the season was on September 3 against Huguenot. The competition was stiff, but the hot long days of work in August paid off.

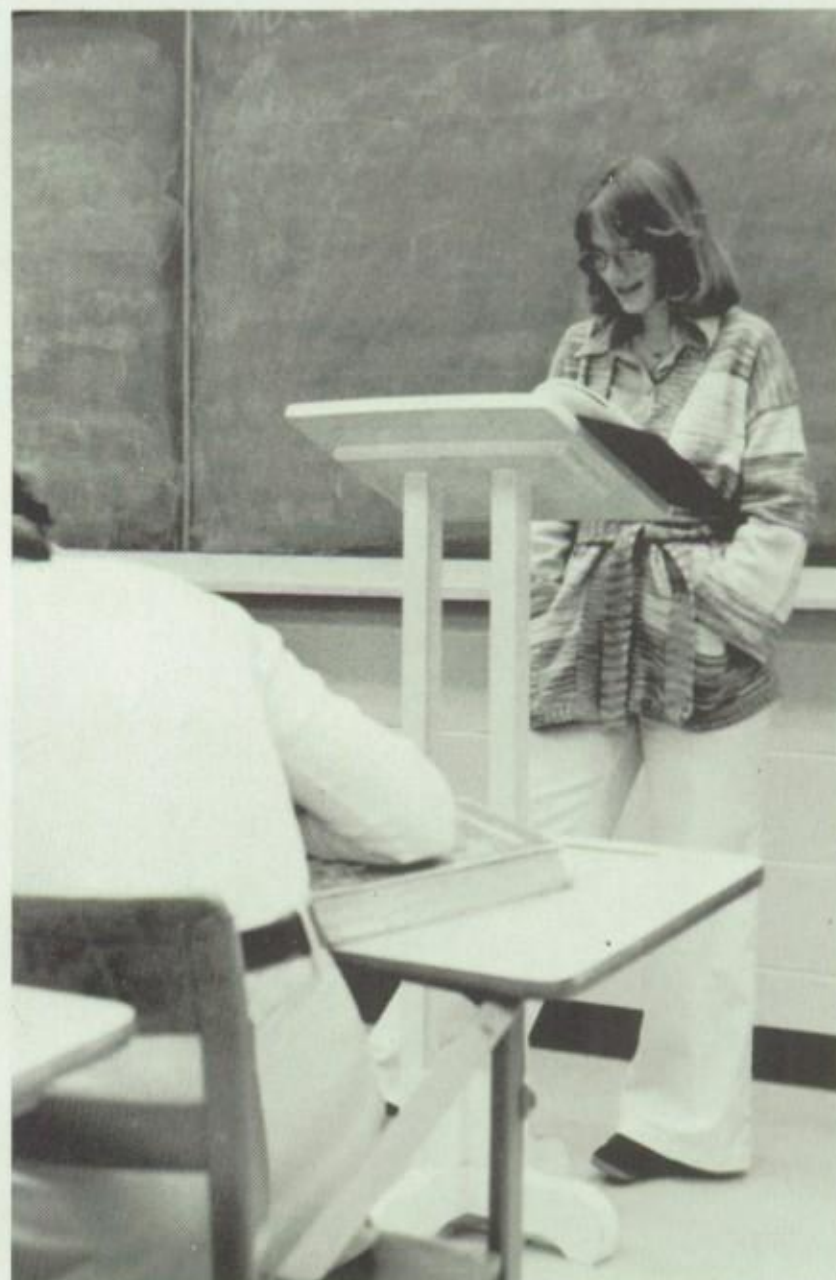

Throughout the year, events and new experiences came and left their impressions on N.S.A. Elections had real effects on both students and the school. Campaign propaganda appeared often on campus. The question of whom to vote for was often heard.

Excitement flowed steadily. Dances, new friends, sports, activities, classes — all events brought never ending struggles and pleasures to each N.S.A. member. Fond memories of good and bad times were made in the 1976-77 school year. These memories will be kept, cherished, and relived in years to come. Struggles and pleasures — these are our memories of Nansemond-Suffolk Academy in 1977.

OZ DAZZLES ALL!

After worrying with the juniors all year long, Mrs. Harry arrived looking as if all her loose ends were tied together.

Attendees were thoroughly exhausted after a few sweaty dances in tuxedos and long dresses.

OZ: A FANTASY TURNED INTO REALITY!

The fantasyland of Oz was the extravagant setting of the Jr.-Sr. Prom on May 7, 1976. It was quite hard to believe that Emerald City had been the dirty gym only a week before. Long hours and hard work were put into the production of the exquisite ballroom that housed many happy people on prom night. It was an afternoon of hopes and anxiety; an evening of dreams and smiles, and a morning after of memories to last a lifetime.

A group of hard working juniors discuss the trials and tribulations of creating the fantasy-land.

Nobody followed the Yellow Brick Road on Prom night.

Lona Dailey and date stop to converse with the tin man.

During band breaks, the fruit table was quite a popular place.

SUMMER SEPARATES N.S.A.

Mr. Owens readies himself for administrative responsibilities.

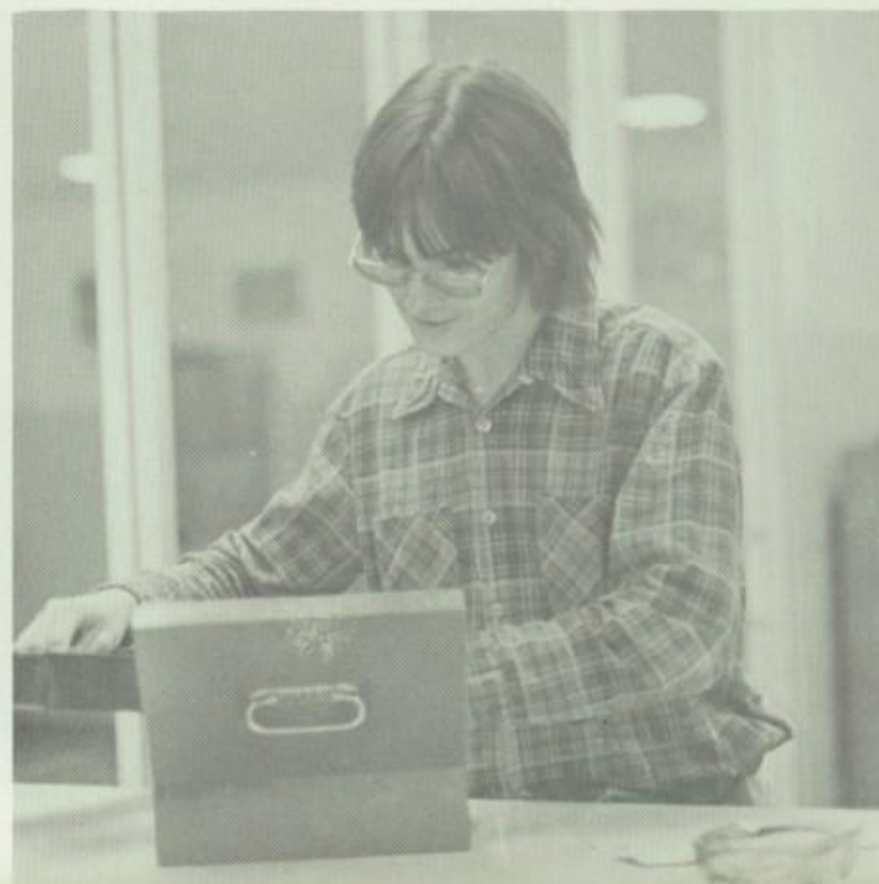

Billy Poarch counts ad money for the annual staff.

Summer 1976 — new experiences, fun, challenge, work. These elements shaped a fantastic summer for N.S.A. students. Saints were seen everywhere — in the office and field, working, relaxing at the beach, even traveling in Europe.

Employment may be a national problem, but N.S.A. students did not allow this to dampen their spirits. They sought jobs and many were rewarded in their endeavors. Others who did not work enjoyed the sandy beaches of Virginia and North Carolina. Many traveled to New York, Belgium, Florida, and numerous other places.

Coach Crigger prepares for school's opening.

The N.S.A. staff and teams resumed work in August, preparing themselves for the 1976-77 school year. Mr. Owen began working to meet the challenge of his new environment. The 1976-77 football squad, under the direction of Coach Terry Crigger, began sweating in the heat of late summer so that they could make a superior performance for the first game. The Cheerleaders held many practice sessions and attended camp. Everyone was preparing for the "best ever" school year.

Mark Garner enjoys Florida's sunny beaches.

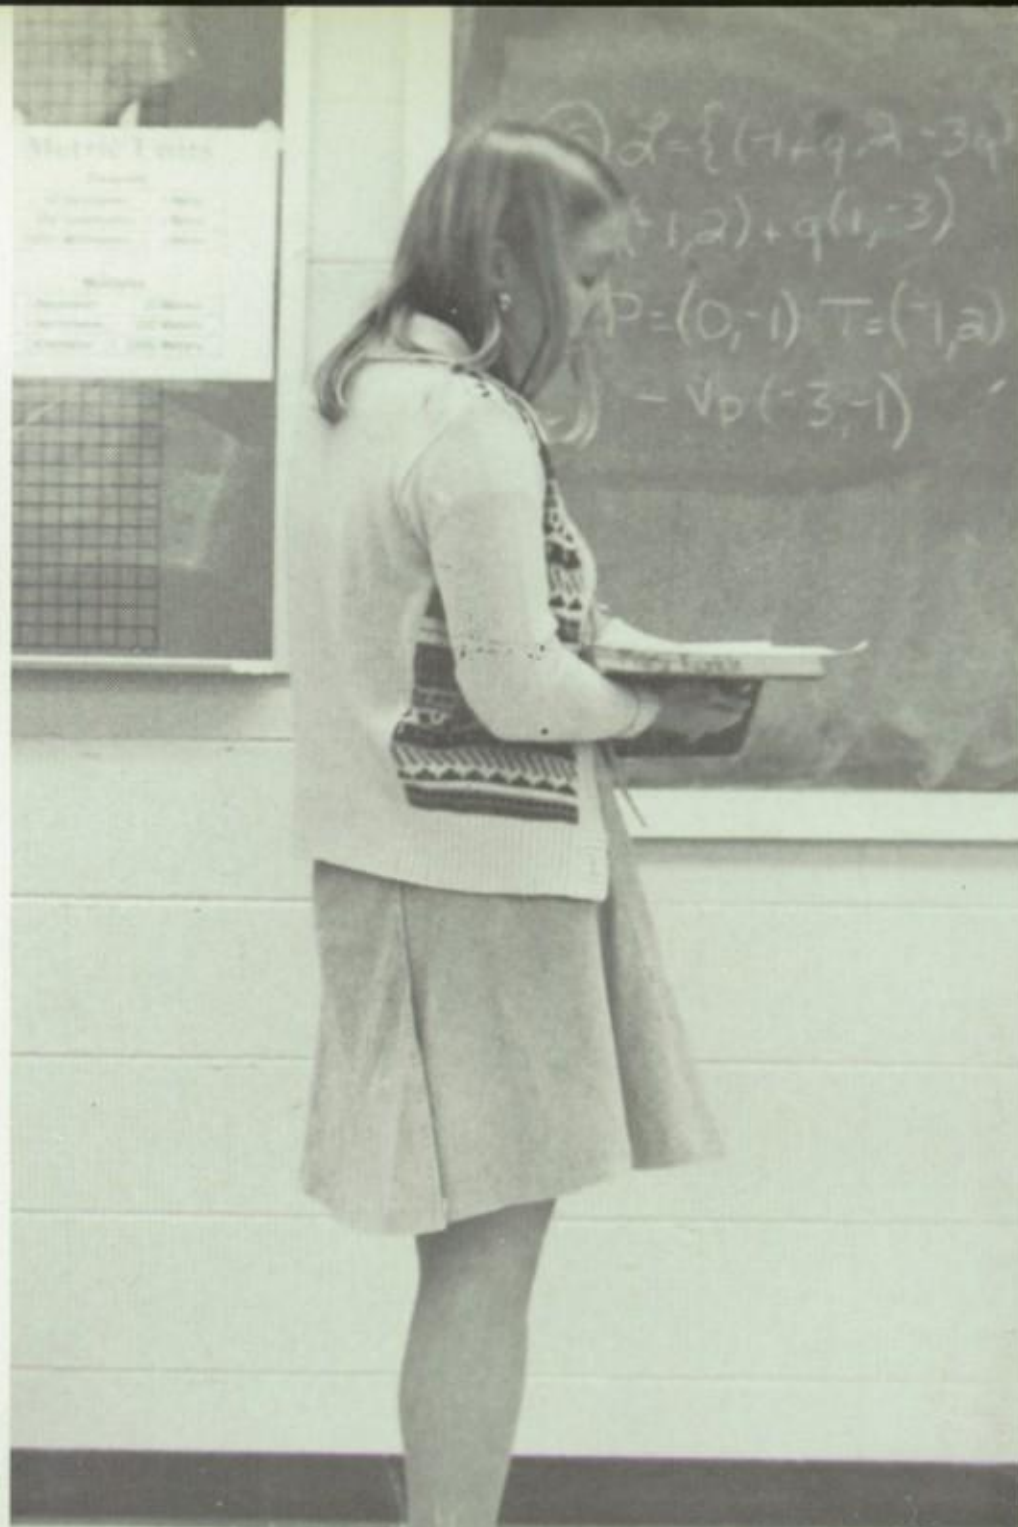

Forrest Dodson has fun in Belgium.

Betsy Stroud and Sharyl Peters start early on their SCROLL layouts.

... CAUSE WE'RE

Backed by the cheers of the largest crowd at NSA yet, the Saints punted, passed, rushed, and tackled their way to victory over the Brunswick Vikings with a score of 42 to 18 making the 1976 Homecoming a thrilling victory.

Spirit Week began with lots of energy and fervor as students chose attendants, stuffed floats, painted posters, and dressed according to the days of the week. As always, teachers complained, but somehow students found a way to get out of class to work.

October 15 finally came and excitement couldn't be controlled any longer. The winners of Mr. & Ms. Spirit were announced, Steve Carroll and Debra Beck. The Sophomores were Hall Contest winners. At the pep rally, the rowdiest of the rowdy were the Seniors.

That night, the bleachers were packed and spirits were high as the Blue & Gold took their opponents by a large margin. At half-time, Mary Eberwine was crowned Queen and Lisa Witt was chosen Maid of Honor. Their attendants were: Betsy Stroud & Doris Lawrence, Seniors; Wende Burkett & Sherri Gabbert, Juniors; Mary Stroud & Betsy Beard, Sophomores; Pixie Pression & Tali Debnam, Freshmen; Anne Cabell Birdsong & Teresa Carroll, Thetamores.

The parade of floats was imaginative and colorful. The band played a series of foot-stomping songs.

After the game, parents and students rushed to the field to congratulate the victors. Inside the gym, the band, Jamaica, was warming up to make Homecoming the special night that it was intended to be.

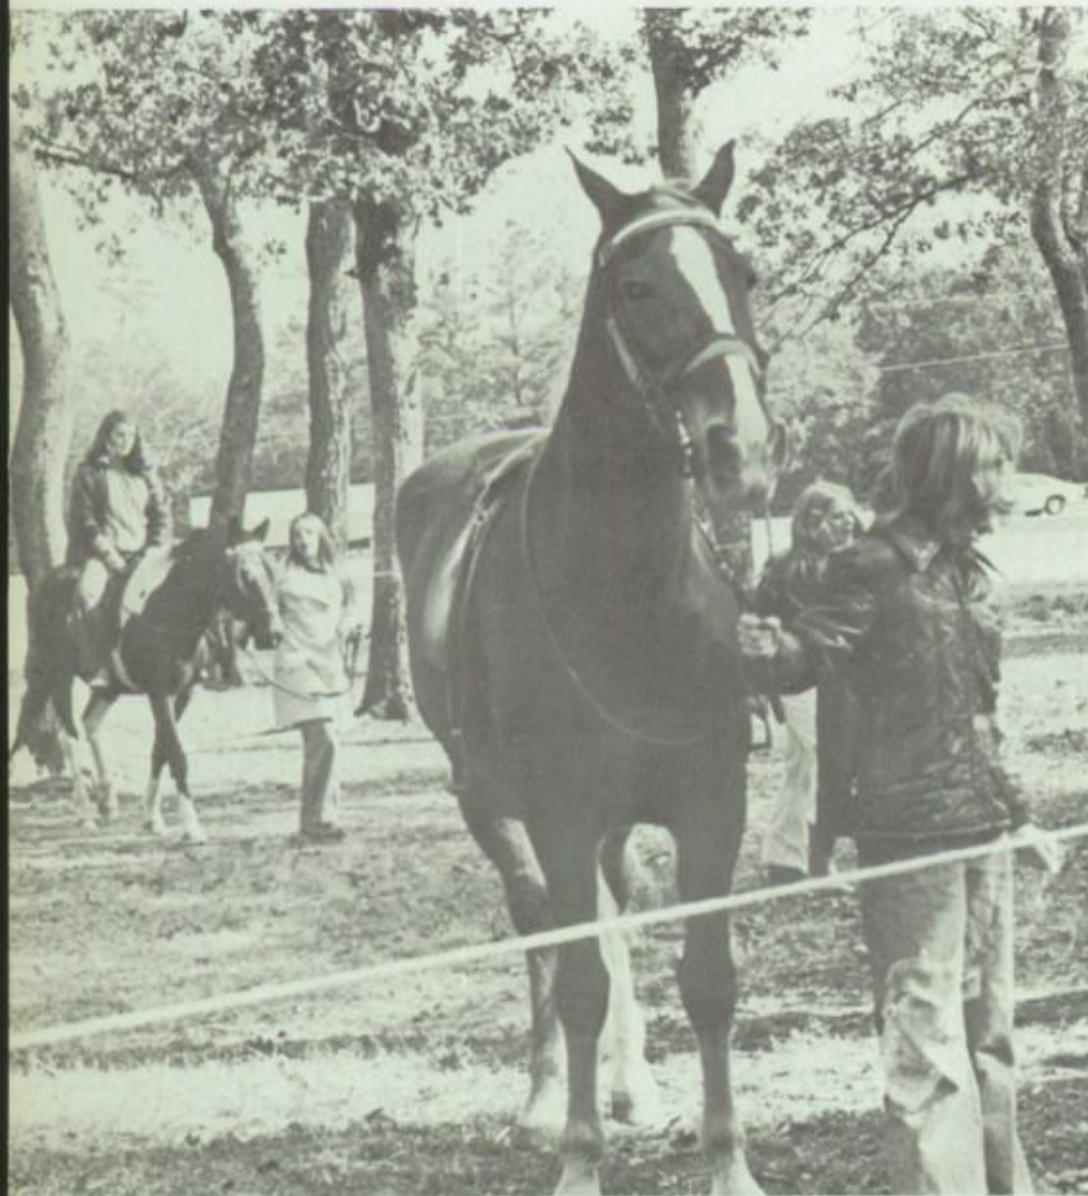

FUNKY ON OUR FEET!!!

FIELD DAY HARVESTS $20,000

The "For Children Only" booth had many interested and amazed visitors.

Beautiful and graceful horses were found leading excited children through the grounds.

Rides attracted many participants and bystanders.

Although things tended to be off schedule and slow, Field Day was once again a big success. Pumpkins, hay, horses, rides, FOOD, people, people and more people — these were the components that gave Field Day its appeal.

Noted for its homemade goodies and crafts, Field Day attracted everyone. Patrons gazed while children explored and played.

Meanwhile, behind the scenes, anxious PTO members worked feverishly so everything would run smoothly. Rides were late in arriving as was equipment for booths. Many nervous PTO members were rewarded for all their hard, long work. Twenty thousand dollars was harvested.

Fond glances were given by many to the handcrafted items.

The ladies who made Field Day possible took a moment of rest to be photographed. They were: Mrs. Seal, Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Dewing, Mrs. Brothers, Mrs. Birdsong, Mrs. White, Mrs. Freund and Mrs. Williams.

Mr. Peanut greeted numerous Field Day visitors.

Bragging, Bruising And Boogying - SENIORS VS. JUNIORS

Jeanie Liles traps Tina Keyt.

Scoreboard shows SENIORS Victorious!

The bleachers were filled and the crowds were laughing as they focused their eyes to the floor where the hilarious Junior and Senior boys were stomping their feet to the rays and raahs of the cheering world. This was the scene of the pep rally that commenced the second annual powder puff football game between the class of 1977 and 1978.

After about two weeks of hard and grueling practice after school and on Sundays the game night finally arrived. The Juniors elected to wear white jerseys and the Seniors were satisfied, after much argument with the blue jerseys.

Several Juniors block as teammate Tina Keyt rushes ahead.

Juniors show their version of typical football exercises.

Billy Poarch and gals demonstrate their "Suzy" expertise.

Both teams took the field before the crowd had arrived and put on their version of true pre-game exercises. The game started and each team was scared, nervous and anxious.

The Senior offense was a little hard for the Juniors to handle and before long the score was 14-0. The Juniors never gave up, but the momentum seemed to be going against them and the Class of 1977 won its second powder puff victory.

Following the game, everyone preceded to the gym; Juniors to raise their spirits and the Seniors to celebrate victory. Indeed this was truly a night of Bragging, Bruising and Boogying.

BONFIRE, BEACH AND BALLGAME

The Pep Club — 123 members strong — is the largest club at Nansemond-Suffolk Academy. This year there is a new sponsor, Mrs. Wilson, who is now a full time teacher at NSA. Besides having the difficult job of raising school spirit, the Pep Club was responsible for the bonfire for the Homecoming Game. For those who think the Pep Club is not doing their job, what have you done to raise school spirit?

Those wonderful Monogram coats — modeled by Robert Wentz and Pat Suttle — that every anxious athlete waits for.

The Monogram Club is one of the few clubs that you cannot sign up for — you must earn the right to become a member by meeting requirements in your sport. This year the Monogram members and their sponsor, Mr. Hatch, went to Richmond to see an exciting football game between Richmond and William and Mary. They also plan to have a party at the beach. This seems to be becoming an annual event.

The Hi-Y is a club associated with the YMCA, thus the name, Hi-Y — High School YMCA. Basically this club of boys is a service organization that takes on projects throughout the year. In March the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y went to the Model General Assembly in Richmond where they presented their bill concerning surgery for minors without parental permission in the case of an emergency.

THERE IS MORE TO IT

The Forensics Club is one that requires much more work than meets the eye. After deciding what category to compete in, the studious Forensics member must then make a selection within that category. Months and months of long, hard practices before fellow members and the mirror end in a suspense filled morning at the Forensics Meet. There has been a decrease in the membership this year, but, the enthusiasm and anxieties of the Forensics Club have risen, with the help of the sponsor Ms. Gardner.

Mrs. White gives advice to business manager, Billy Poarch.

PUBLICATION STAFF 1976-77 — STRIV

ING TO MEET NSA'S

Shirley prepares to catch someone "on the spot."

The Journalism class of 1976-77 has striven for many goals this year. They have printed five newspapers and the 1976-77 SCROLL. Their task has not been an easy one. Always problems have arisen with pictures and typographical errors. Deadlines have always presented themselves when they were least welcome. Through determination and self-sacrifice, each staff member has contributed a great deal to eradicate such problems.

Shirley Culpepper, the SCROLL editor, has worked with dedication to make this year's book memorable for all. Kathy Bowman, the newspaper editor, has improved the school paper immeasurably. Helping these two editors and the staff has been Mrs. Bryant. Without her aid, the publication staff would never have accomplished anything.

Both the newspaper and annual staffs have worked extra hard to meet N.S.A.'s demands. Dedicated staff members have spent hard work-filled hours meeting their deadlines. It is hoped that they have proven themselves worthy and have helped to make the annual and newspapers enjoyable to everyone.

DEMANDS

SCO DEDICATED TO IMPROVEMENT

Homeroom representative Tina Keyt discusses the last SCO meeting with classmate Kathy Hall.

The SCO is a multi-purpose organization dedicated to the improvement of the relationship between students and administration. It has a tremendous responsibility — the governing of the student body. Few realize what a huge task this can be. Not only does the SCO govern, but it also plans student activities.

Everyone at NSA is represented by the SCO. Meetings are held monthly. Separate committees meet more often.

For the past three years the SCO has sponsored a student-exchange between various academies. This year Nansemond-Suffolk exchanged with York and Surry.

In addition to this, the SCO sponsored the Homecoming and Sweetheart dances, and even put on a new type of dance — the Computer-Date dance. For this dance everyone filled out a questionnaire. These questionnaires were sent away, and each student was given a number. While at the dance, each person looked for their number and date.

The SCO was responsible for students being allowed to wear blue jeans second semester. Through a series of conferences, meetings, and compromises, the SCO has worked for the students in an effort to create a comfortable equilibrium of work and fun at NSA.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Future Teachers of America advances the knowledge of students interested in the teaching profession. The members of the FTA aid teachers by checking papers, fixing bulletin boards, and washing blackboards. Special meetings are held each month for a program. At these programs guests speak on the teaching profession and college preparation for teaching.

For the past two years the FTA has held a ham raffle at Field Day. The money applies to a $100 scholarship. The Scholarship is awarded to a senior at graduation who plans to go into the teaching profession.

The Future Business Leaders of America is an organization which prepares youth for the business world. The members of the FBLA learn how to work office machines and their importance in the business world.

The FBLA sold raffle tickets at Field Day for a digital clock radio. This gave the members the experience of selling and making money for the benefit of the club.

TRI-HI-Y

Senior Tri-Hi-Y — First row: Betsy Stroud, Pres.; Debbie Jordan, Vice-Pres.; Gina Owens, Treas.; Francis Gwaltney, Sec.; Kathy Lewis, Historian; Kathy Blanchard, Chaplain. Second row: Mrs. Williams, Sponsor; Mary Eberwine, Carla Horton, Debbie Frankos, Sandra Layden, Cathy Jones, Jeanie Hurlbert, Ann March. Third row: Mary Kunkle, Mary Stuart, Sharon Bryant, Carla Jones, Fleet Lynch, Jeanie Liles, Alissa Allen, LuAnne Carr.

The NSA Tri-Hi-Y is a service organization sponsored by the YWCA's of America. They strive for christian attitudes and behavior and work on school and community projects.

For the community project the club carried senior citizens without transportation to the polls to vote in November.

The major event during the year is the Model General Assembly. Each school sends a bill and delegates to Richmond. The delegates preside just as Senators. Those bills passed are presented to the Virginia State General Assembly when they convene. In this way Tri-Hi-Y helps the state not just the school. No wonder it is one of the largest clubs at NSA.

ATHENA ADVANCES ACADEMICS

This year, the main objective of the Athena-Beta Club has been to re-evaluate the club, its constitution, and its purpose. Already the standards of membership have been raised. The club's two sponsors, Mrs. Sherard and Mrs. Williams, have worked with the officers and committees in this re-evaluation.

In November, five new members were tapped into the club. They were Ben Doughtie, Mark Garner, Cindy Hollowell, Mary Kunkle, and Brian Wills.

This year the Nansemond-Suffolk Academy Athena-Beta Club had two state officers in the Athena Society. Pam Byrd was Secretary-Treasurer and Lynda Howell was Vice President. The Athena Convention was definitely one of the high points of the year.

Jeanne Hurlbert, Treasurer; Connie Wimbrough, Secretary; Mary Babb, Vice-President; and Stewart Manning, President study prospective colleges.

NEW NOTES IN 1977

One of Nansemond-Suffolk Academy's best attributes is its bands. It boasts one of three uniformed marching bands in the Eastern and Western Conferences.

Through the direction and dedication of Mr. Dave Mitchell, parents who want the best for their children, and students with desire to harmonize and form a sound to be proud of, the bands have grown greatly.

They went from no uniforms, to full marching costumes for the entire band. They went from a hand-full of interested amateurs, to a program of five bands, each with talent and promise. NSA's bands have gained an important confidence in themselves now and have participated this year in many competitions. Many times they were the smallest band, but were given the highest compliments and praise.

However, the bands have accomplished something more important. The school is beginning to recognize the talent of the performers and is giving them more respect and praise. The marching band's routines at games were exciting and the "special sound" of the stage band reached many.

With Mr. Mitchell, parents, and the school behind such a promising group, how can they go anywhere but up?!

Director, Mr. Mitchell and drum majorette Carla Jones work together to make the marching band's routines work.

HOLA LUISA QUETAL!

PARLEZ VOUS FRANCAIS?

This year, the Foreign Language Club doubly increased in size. The club was divided into different languages as a result. They are Latin, Spanish, and French Clubs.

The officers of the French Club are: President — Debbie Jordan, Vice-President — Laurie Stublen, Secretary — Jane Beard, and Treasurer — Cindy Brothers.

The Consul of the Latin Club is Pixie Presson and Pro-Consul — Gigi Birdsong.

LATIN

DRAMA CLUB

The Art and Drama clubs are ambitiously planning a play this year. They are also doing in-depth study in play production and various forms of art.

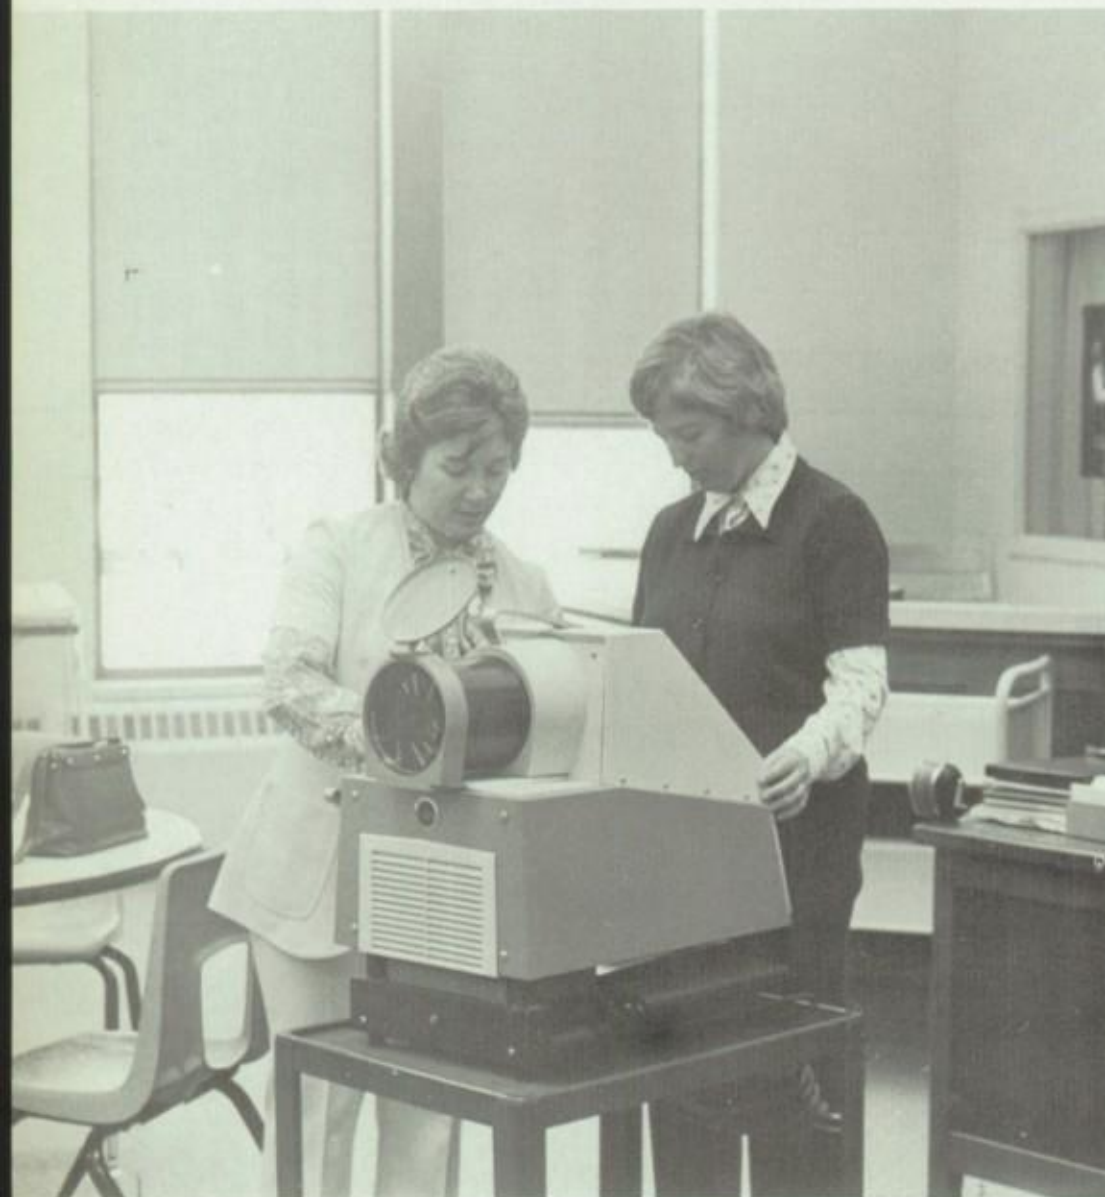

This year's officers include: President — Joanne Ellis, Vice-President — Meredith Livingston, Secretary — Marilyn McDonald, and Treasurer — Laura Matasugiah.

The Chess Club officers include: Robert Barclay — President, Vice-President — Chip Carter, and Treasurer — Paul Pendorf.

LIBRARY MAKES GREAT GAINS

Senior, Alissa Allan peruses one of the libraries many magazines.

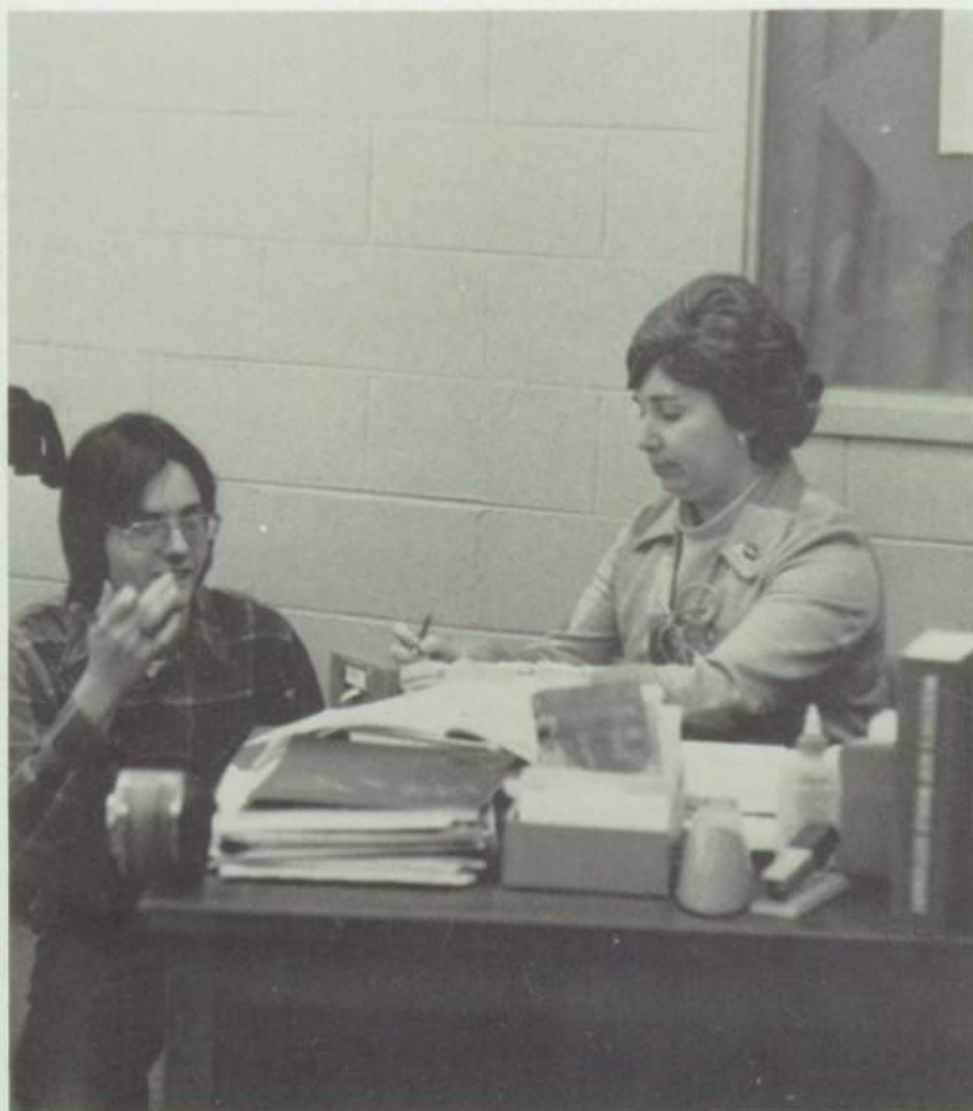

In recent years NSA has greatly improved its library facilities. Over the past few years required books could never be found. No longer is this true, library shelves have everything from Italian cook books to Gone With The Wind. Also, NSA's library possesses numerous magazines, and is beginning to compile an extensive vertical file.

Our librarian, Mrs. Bowman, has proved to be a great help to everyone. Whenever a book can't be found or a suggestion for a report is needed, she is the person to whom one turns. Without her aid, many of the A's earned by NSA students would not be acquired.

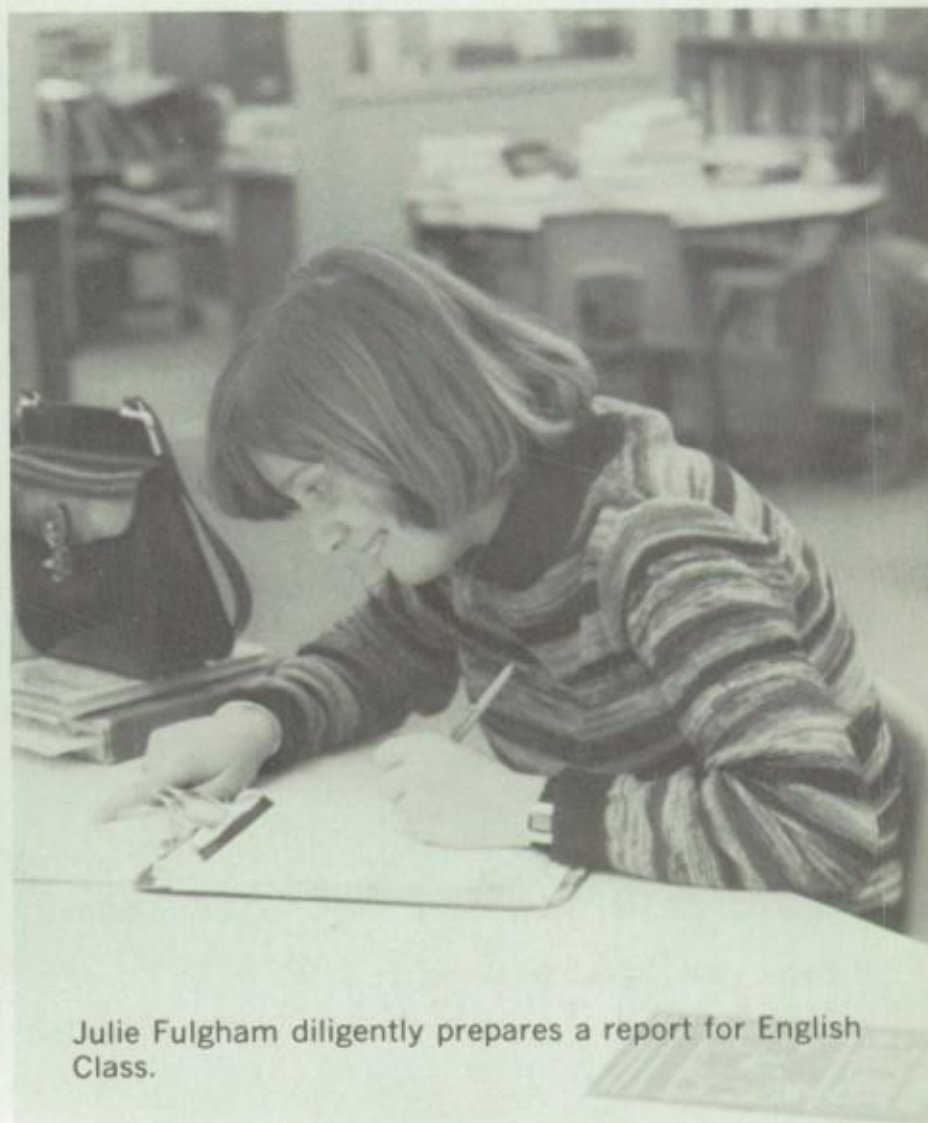

The library is a place for study, companionship, fun, and sometimes just a place to be alone with your thoughts. It is a room dedicated totally for the students' use. There are no requirements involved in its usage. All that is asked is that students take care of it and its contents.

Seniors do the necessary last minute studying for their government test.

MANAGING A

Dazed by the prospect of having no homework, Art Kelsey sits back in the library and relaxes.

"... and your theme must have an introduction, body, and conclusion!"

... some new speaker, an exchange student, or even news of a concert breaks the same dull routine. By no means are any of us bored with our life at school — our teachers take care of that alone. But we, the students of NSA, make the activities we participate in a challenging experience.

Years from now what will we remember about high school? We will probably remember the dances, sports, school rivalries, and friendships. But school has another side, the academic life.

There are term papers, reports, tests and tons of homework to be done in addition to the extra-curricular activities. With much hard work, dedication, and serious study, the students at NSA strive for admirable grades and accomplishments. It is only fitting that those who succeed are honored by different clubs, societies and awards. To them, we say congratulations on a job well done.

Pat Suttle was selected as the DAR award recipient from NSA.

JV AND VARSITY GIRLS STRIKE OPPONENTS

Both the junior varsity and varsity softball teams of last year did very well. The varsity players made their way to the tournament at Mecklenburg Academy. The baseball and softball teams played double-headers on several occasions to save extra trips to schools that were far away. At the end of the season the girls expressed their deep appreciation to coaches Spruill and Wilson for the great jobs they did in '76.

GOLF AND BASEBALL TEAMS

The 1975-76 golf team was a championship team. They showed their expertise abilities throughout their winning season. They faced a tough schedule and hard work, but took it in stride. Seven out of ten matches were triumphs.

On Thursday, May 20, the NSA golf team made school history. They won the Virginia Academy Athletic Conference golf tournament in Mecklenburg, where seven academics fielded teams for the tournament. The team scored a low 341 total for its top four golfers, outdistancing Prince Edward Academy by six strokes.

Bryant Harris was presented MVP award.

The 1976 baseball team, under the expert supervision of Coaches Charles Adams and Dick Griffin, clinched the championship of the Virginia Athletic Academics Conference. Their terrific season began with grueling practice sessions in late winter, preparing them for the Cold Weather Classic Crusader Tournament held March 20. In the first round of play, the Saints downed Hampton Roads 6-1, but they lost 18-0 to Norfolk Catholic in the second round.

The Saints ended their season with a 14-3 record. Highlighting this season were two distinctive wins over arch rival Isle of Wight. Regular season's end found NSA tournament bound. In the first round of the tournament the Saints defeated Mecklenburg Academy 2-1. They graduated to the final round to score an impressive win over Southampton Academy. Three Saints were chosen as All-Conference players: Brian Cassada, Jimmy King, and Brad Eudy. The Most Valuable Player awards were presented to teammates Mike Richardson and Brad Eudy.

GUYS AND GALS

Spring practice began early in March. Members of both tennis teams faced the problem of not only getting back in shape but also the chilling March winds. The grueling practices after school every day did pay off, however. The girls team, coached by Mr. David A. Mitchell, finished their season 8 and 5. The boys team played only a few matches but performed very well in each according to their coach Mrs. Brenda Draper. Nansemond-Suffolk Academy hosted the VAAC Tennis Tournament and came in second place. Our number one seed of the girls, Brinkley, won the singles championship. The girls also participated in a private schools' tournament at Randolph Macon Woman's College in Lynchburg.

VARSITY SAINTS CRUSH

Jim Chappell takes the hand-off from quarterback John Bangley and struggles for a few precious yards.

Butch Griffin sweeps around the end, while Brian Wills prevents a possible tackle.

Coach Crigger chats with John Bangley and a few other teammates; a possible pep talk for a big game.

The Saints Varsity football team had a very impressive 1976 season. Under the leadership of Coach Terry Crigger, the team compiled an intimidating 7-2 overall record. Winners they were, as they averaged better than 22 points per game while their opponents scored a mere 7 points a game.

The squad began its season by crushing Huguenot and Broadwater in the opening two contests. A disappointing loss to Southampton didn't stop the team from bouncing back and smothering York, leaving them scoreless. The fifth game brought on the traditional warfare with the enemy, Isle of Wight. The Chargers scored on a safety to lead 2-0 at halftime. Butch Griffin's one yard plunge into the end zone and the conversion put the Saints up by five, 7-2. But another IWA touchdown served the Saints their second defeat, losing 8-7, a heartbreaking upset for our team.

Wide receiver Clay White pulls in a long bomb and carries it into the end zone.

OPPONENTS!

Face to face with an army of onrushing defenders, Jimmy Lee King is not intimidated as he drives forward.

The final four contenders consisted of Kenston Forest, Brunswick, Gill, and Broadwater. The spectacular Saints defeated all of these schools with exceptionally marginal differences, outscoring them with a total of 97-37 points.

Though each and every player had an outstanding season, exceptional performances were Jimmy Lee King, all-conference cornerback, and Gary Spivey, all-conference offensive and defensive tackle.

At a hot summer practice, the team huddles around Coach Crigger as he explains a new play.

The Junior Varsity Saints' football team's year was one to be remembered, as it was spectacular, with a winning record of 4-3 overall. Coach Zirkle and Assistant Coach Adams led these young men to victory after victory. Long hard practices proved to pay off in the real games.

Dianne Bradshaw goes down two against one, but still scraps for the ball.

This year was described as a rebuilding year for the Varsity team in that they lost many seniors last graduation, two all-Conference players included. Many believed that all hope was lost for them.

However, the new coach, Miss Betty Jean Riddick, began practices in August and worked to disprove this theory. The NSA graduate and former Most Valuable Player was willing to listen to the "gripes" of the team and do whatever she could.

In the end, the team went to the tournaments, but lost in the first round. Something more important was gained though. No matter what team they played, they played together, as a team of friends an accomplishment in itself.

J.V.'S SET

Last year's J.V. squad achieved the highest honor by winning the first place trophy in the VAAC. It was the first year cheerleaders from NSA had won any kind of trophy. But the 76-77 J.V.'s are determined to keep the winning streak and continue to be champs.

Try-outs in May were tough. Out of many hopefuls, two returning J.V.'s and eight spirited newcomers were selected. All ten attended camp in August and learned new and exciting ideas. Four varsity girls went along and between the two groups, they brought home a spirit stick and a myriad of ribbons.

School started and everyone was excited about the first football game. All went well and everyone found what it was like to be a true cheerleader.

A great deal was expected of the J.V. girls basketball team after an almost unblemished season last year of 7-1. In their third season, the Junior Varsity girls basketball team finished with another winning record. The young squad terminated with a 5-3 season and the girls put on a pretty good show in front of the NSA crowds. Coach Dicky Griffin had his second year as head coach of the J.V. squad and was enthusiastic about the end results. Coach Griffin worked very hard with his girls and practiced the fast break to perfection.

JV SAINTS SHINE ON — #1 IN THE EAST!

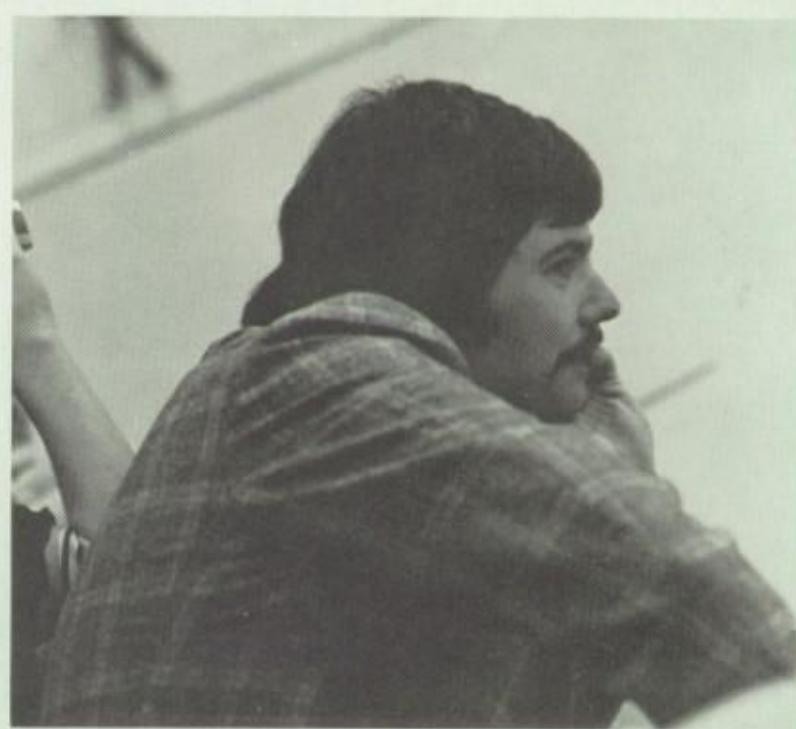

The Junior Varsity Saints had a magnificent basketball season that will long be remembered. They were involved in a tight race for first place the entire time with IWA and Southampton. Each team played the other twice and split, leaving a three-way tie for the top position in the East.

Standing: Ricky Eure, John Frankos, Hunter Odom, Rick Joyner, Steve Carroll, Coach Dickie Griffin, Andy Chapman, John Nicodemo, Jay Gabbert, Jay Howell, Peter Jackson. Kneeling: John Bangle*, Joey Holland*

Coach Griffin looks on with satisfaction.

Peter Jackson fires a twelve-footer good for two points.

Since only one team could go to Randolph Macon from each division for the championship, a play-off was necessary. Southampton drew the bye, and the jayvee Saints, in one of their finest played games all year, demolished IWA. They went on to do the same to Southampton to earn themselves a trip to Ashland.

The Western division champs were Huguenot, who opposed NSA in the state finals. The jayvee squad led most of the way, but could not withstand a Huguenot rally late in the game and suffered a very disappointing loss, 53-50. But, the team had a great deal to be proud of, as they finished the season under Coach Griffin with a record of 16 wins and 7 losses.

Coach Hatch discusses strategy with guard, Clay White.

There was no doubt in the minds of faithful fans that the Saints were number one! After the final game there was no doubt in anyone's mind that NSA was number one! The season began with an eight point victory against Norfolk Christain and terminated with a smashing defeat of arch rival IWA.

The team set high goals for the season and obtained most of them. In double overtime they stunned IWA by a one point win. Although they took a backseat to Southampton in the NSA Christmas tournament, they returned to stomp them not once, but twice. Full of confidence, they went on to beat Norfolk Academy.

Losing J.M., a result of misfortune playing Surry the team was even more determined to win. That they did! They could not be stopped. A suspense-filled play-off game with Amelia was won which sent NSA off to Macon.

Confident, but nervous, the team proceeded to crush Southampton at Macon. Then, in a climatic game, they became VAAC champs by demolishing IWA 65-55.

Robert Wentz attempts to block his opponent's shot.

Another season and another year. This year the 76-77 cheerleaders were a little extra special. They shared 3 years of cheering experience at NSA. Five seniors, two juniors and three sophomores were picked in early spring from a small field of fifteen experienced girls.

The cheerleaders were looking optimistically for a high position in the VAAC cheering competition. Although they didn't place, they were known to do an impeccable cheer more than once.

As any season ends, participants always look back and decide they never want things to change. These varsity cheerleaders weren't any different. Their heads were filled with miles of memories. Cold football games, victorious homecomings, and cheering for a #1 basketball were all a part of this past year.

Mrs. Alice Beaton and Ms. Judy Gardner were an indispensable part of the squad. They traveled many hours with the girls, encouraging them and acting like a second mother.

And as another year ends, old cheerleaders are ready to take other's places. But this year's cheerleaders will leave a mark on the history of NSA. They will long be remembered and thought of as one of those great 'ole NSA cheerleaders.

What is a good athlete? This is a hard question to answer. Several qualities are found in a truly outstanding athlete. He or she must be dedicated and they must work very hard. Good sportsmen must exert tremendous effort toward being number one. When they can not achieve this goal, they must not accept their disappointments with frowns and tears. Rather, they have to smile and strive for the win the next time they play.

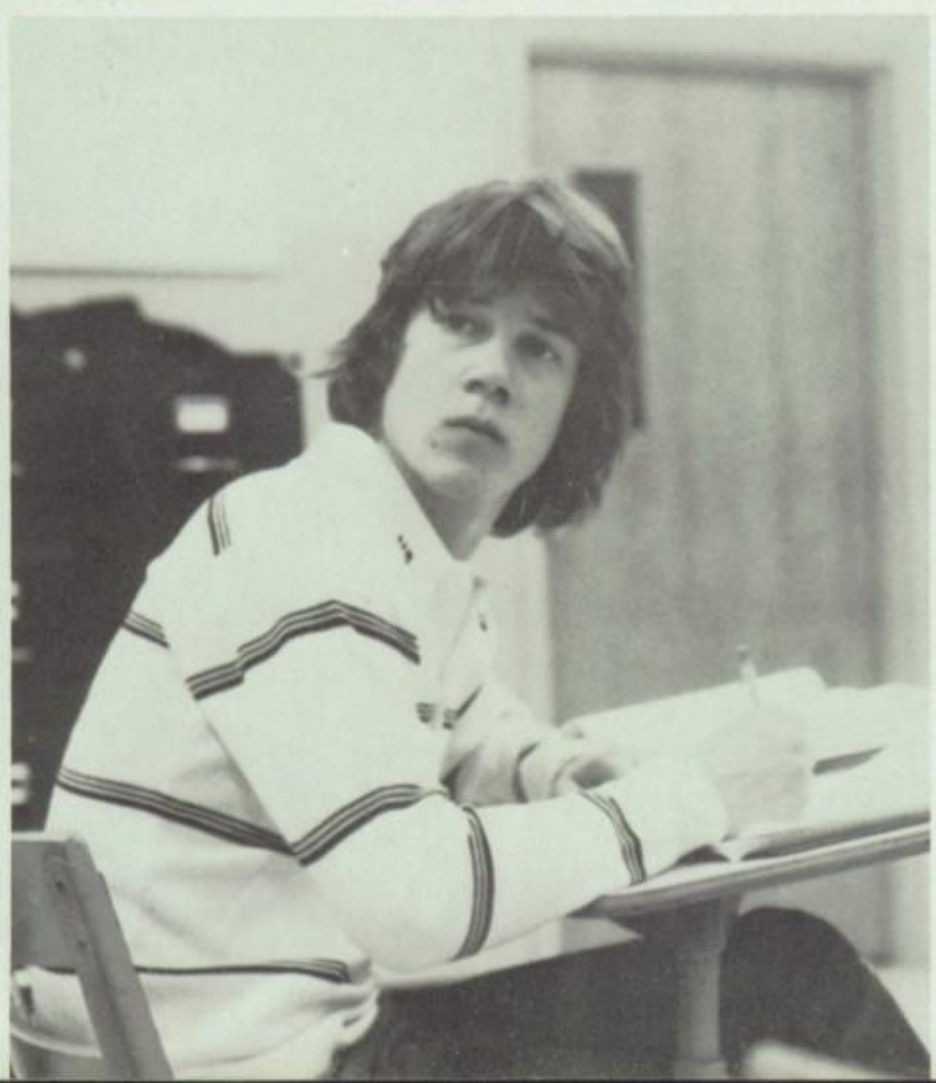

Good sportsmen have a strong character. They must congratulate their adversaries whether victorious or defeated. When defeat occurs, it takes a high caliber personality to greet his opponent with best wishes.

Many outstanding athletes as previously defined attend NSA. Each year they make notable performances and are a source of great pride. In turn the school honors them for their special skills. Each sport's program selects its MVP.

N.S.A. TEACHERS:
TEACHING, PARTICIPATING,
AND BEFRIENDING

Mrs. Bowman is busy at work in the library.

A multipurpose prodigy — this term describes a typical N.S.A. teacher. There is no set location for a teacher at N.S.A. They are found teaching classes, watching ball games, helping organize a prom or supper, attending meetings; the list is infinite. How can one person find time to be in so many places doing so many things?

Not only do they help students in extra-curricular activities and academics, but they are always willing to be a friend. There are not many people who put forth as great an effort to be helpful and shape lives for useful positions in future days as our teachers. They possess a special energy uncommon to most.

IN ACTION

It is not often that one will see a teacher at N.S.A. with an unconcerned look on his or her face or with nothing to do. At times, though, even our teachers need a break from their tough schedules. Like many students, they have been known to be tardy to class or miss a few days every now and then. But, unlike many students, they do not make a habit of it.

The most memorable trait of the teachers at N.S.A. is their ability to communicate with the students on a personal basis. After all teachers are human.

Each year the SCROLL is dedicated to a special person who contributes his time and effort toward making Nansemond-Suffolk Academy a special place for everyone. In 1976-1977 the annual staff honors an administrator and a friend — to some even a coach — Mr. Raymond T. Carson.

For 5 years Mr. Carson's presence has enriched each and every one of us. Without him our athletic program would not be half as strong as it is at present. Mr. Carson has coached NSA's basketball teams to countless wins. When he stepped down as head coach, he assumed the responsibility for the entire athletic program. Mr. Carson's interests helped the SCROLL also. He was instrumental in the annual staff receiving much of their dark-room equipment.

Always Mr. Carson is behind the scenes helping everyone. On a myriad of school oriented occasions, he arrives earliest and leaves latest. He attends all activities with equal pleasure — football, girl's basketball, softball, baseball, tennis, banquets, board meetings, suppers, fund-raising efforts, dances — the list is infinite.

Extra-curricular activities are not Mr. Carson's only interests. He plays an important role in helping young people become responsible adults. As headmaster of our lower school Mr. Carson has endeared himself to many young hearts. Whether he is helping a young SCO president or reprimanding a young rebel, he expresses a unique concern. He has the time to see a student no matter how hectic his schedule may be.

All NSA members have benefited from Mr. Carson's presence. He is one of our many guiding lights. Whether laughing with us, fussing at us, questioning us, or amusing us, Mr. Carson has our deepest respect and our warmest wishes for future achievements.

N.S.A. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Officers: Mr. Charles Shotton, Treasurer; Mr. Joseph Suttle, President; Mr. David Frohman, Secretary; (not pictured) Dr. Lloyd March, Vice-President.

The Board of Directors at Nansemond-Suffolk Academy is a group of men dedicated to the improvement of higher education. Throughout the year, these men work diligently towards better relations of students and faculty and better academics.

The Board of Directors is composed of 15 members, each serving 5 years. By rotating its members one third at the time, the board has a variety of professional men representing the areas in which the students live. Representing the students' views and problems, Mr. Carson and Mr. Owen attend the Board meetings to aid in managing NSA. Mr. Jones also attends as a non-voting member.

Five members who are on the board at the present time have been members since the organization of NSA. These men are: Mr. Joseph Suttle, Dr. Lloyd March, Mr. Cabell Birdsong, Mr. Ted Eudy, and Mr. Phillip Dailey.

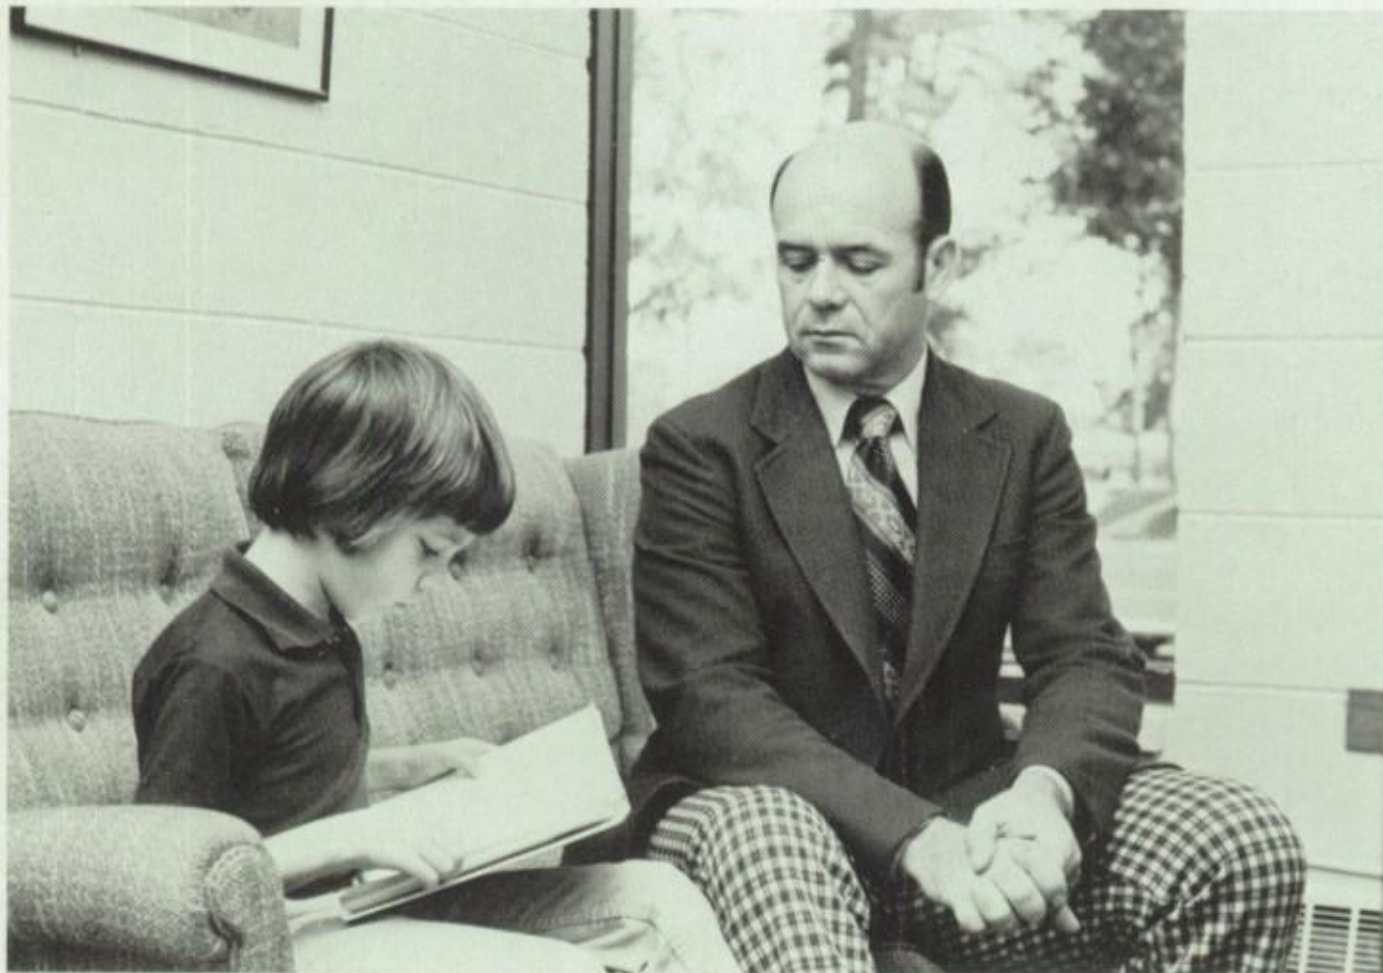

The NSA educational Association is a non-profit society. In the case that NSA should fold, the total institution would go to the government.

Anyone desiring to attend a board meeting, may obtain permission from the chairman and would be welcome to attend.

James Scott, janitor, takes time from his busy schedule to be photographed.

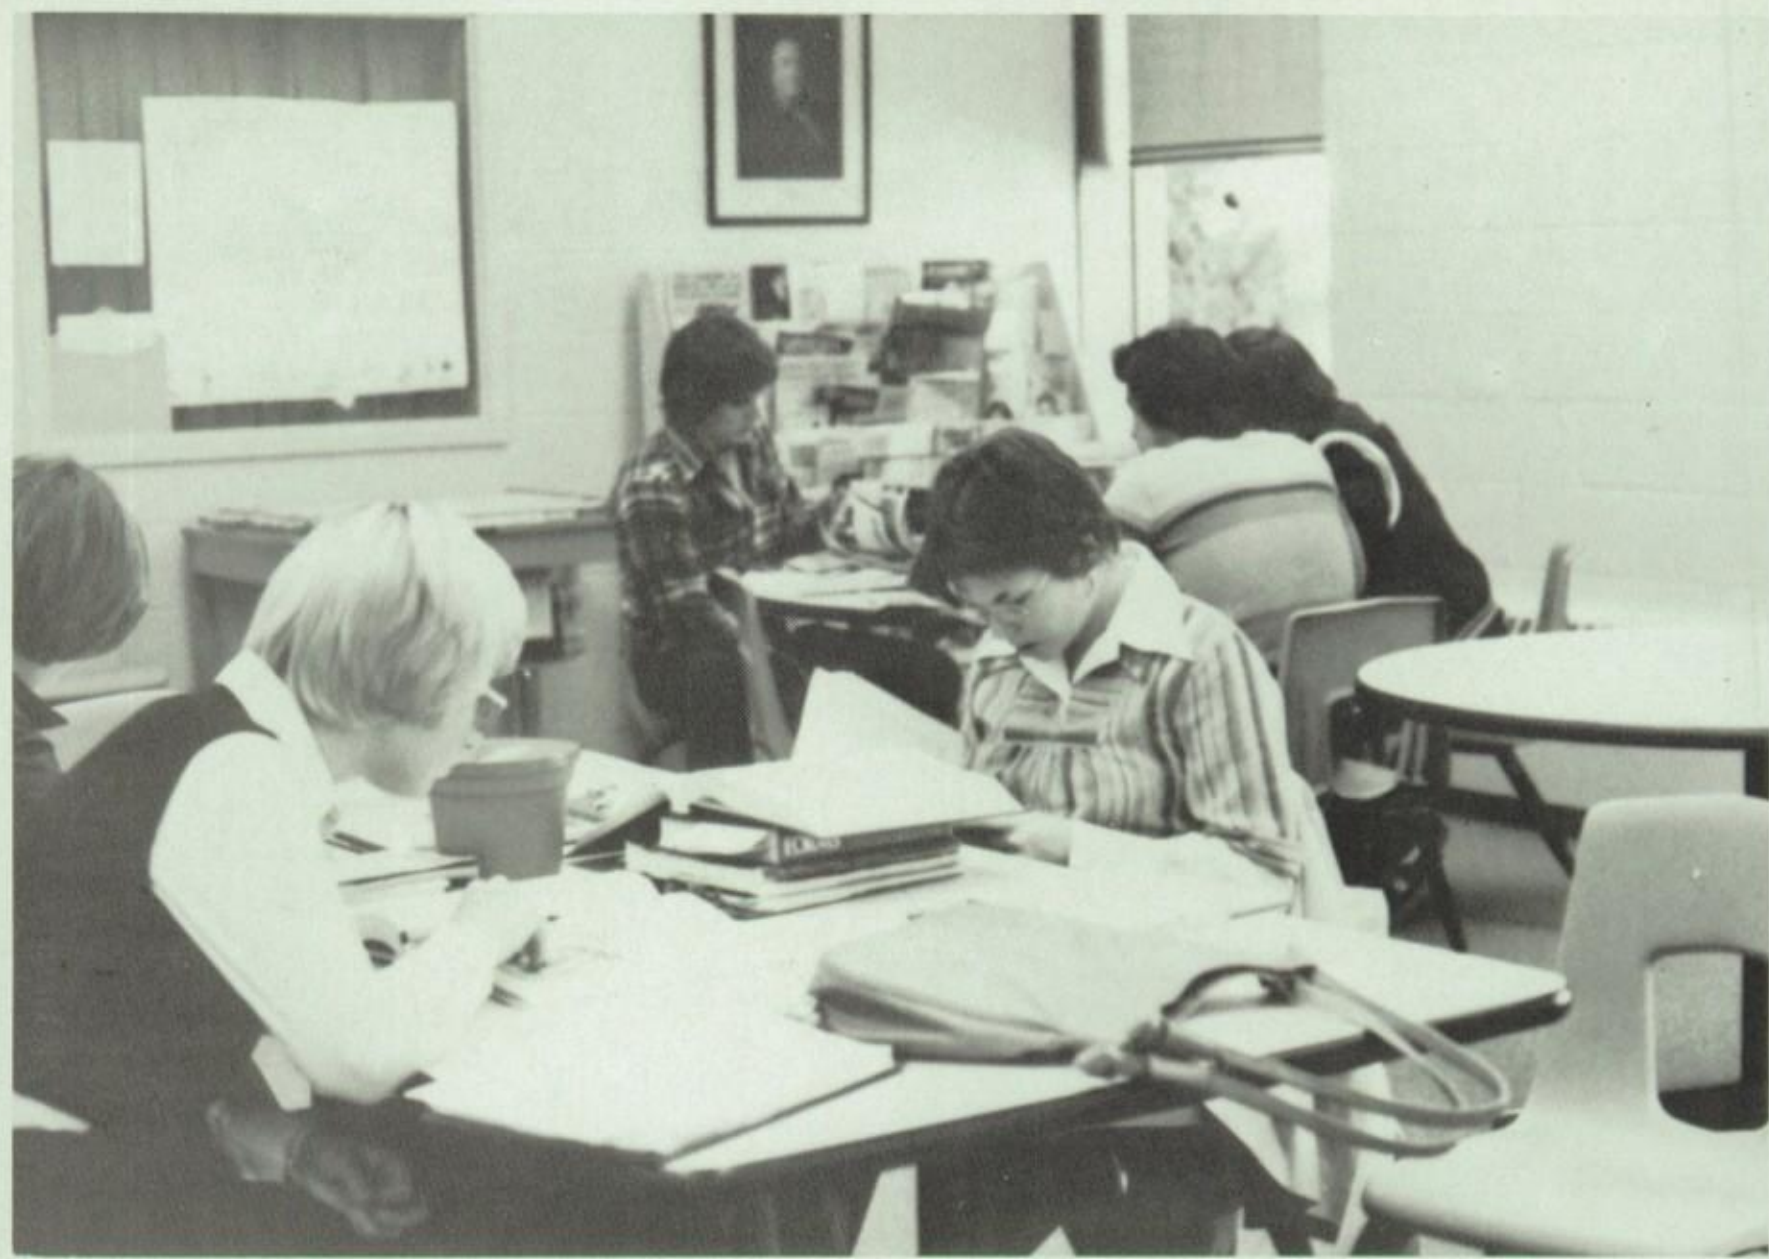

Every year there are many people who are unappreciated and overlooked. Without the janitors and bus drivers Nansemond-Suffolk Academy could not operate. When everyone is just awakening in the wee hours of the morning, these dedicated persons are already up and on the road ready for another day.

Take time and think of all the activities that go on at school and all the work required for these activities to happen. The school is somehow always open and ready. Magic is not responsible for this, people are.

NSA janitors are always ready to help students. How could the Junior class have survived concessions without the help of James Scott? This is only one of the examples that could be told. There are many times the work of dedicated people are not recognized, but their importance is beyond compare.

Mr. Weaver gases buses.

Is There Life After High School?

Seniors!

Life before high school was bumbling, playful, restless. An ordinary day consisted of reading and writing and 'rithmetic, an afternoon snack, some TV, and a bedtime . . .

. . . Life in high school was also bumbling, playful, restless. An ordinary day consisted of more difficult reading, more in-depth writing, and much harder 'rithmetic. We were confronted with new challenges and obstacles, a feel of competition. Courses demanded more time, more study. The social aspect came into our lives with ball games, dances, banquets, and other activities. There were the ups and downs, smiles and tears, break-ups and make-ups. There were still the afternoon snacks, TV, and later bedtimes. We began to realize that time was precious and valuable, and, through experience, learned how to use it wisely, thoughtfully . . .

... Life after high school, of course, is a mystery to us all; none of us have ever experienced it. Is there life after high school? Surely the reading and writing and 'rithmetic will be more challenging. Surely there will be the obstacles we'll have to overcome, problems we'll have to tackle. Surely there will be the ups and downs, break-ups and make-ups. Maybe we'll still have afternoon snacks, TV, and bedtimes ...

... maybe we won't ...

When the seniors arrived at school in the fall of '76, we were ready for anything and everything. We could conquer the world; little did we know. The first week of school, seniors were slapped in the face with assignments in both Government and English. The Canterbury Tales and the mock election will undoubtedly leave a lasting impression on our minds. The usual hassle of schedule adjustments started the year, making it hardly distinguishable from past years...

... In came 1977, our year. We had a little over 5 months left in high school. Along with the turning of a new year came the torture of new exams. Some of the more illustrious Seniors were exempt from the pain.

After the exam break came the dark age before Easter vacation. The only thing to highlight these grim days was the longing for things to come. Those things, of course, were the Senior trip and the awaited prom. Both the trip and the prom were a blast.

After the short time between the prom and final exams came the big day — Graduation. We all marched through the gym with our caps and gowns on, and as we walked down the aisle our days at N-SA filed before our eyes. Some of us were glad it was over, others wished we could start over again, but we were all glad that we had attended Nansemond-Suffolk Academy.

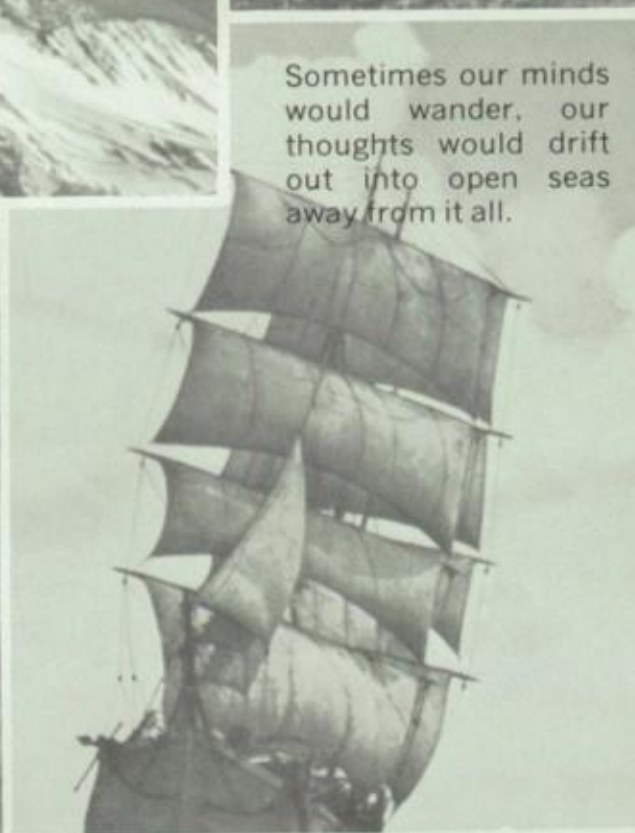

The mighty impact of school was eminent: there were many obstacles to overcome, many mountains to climb.

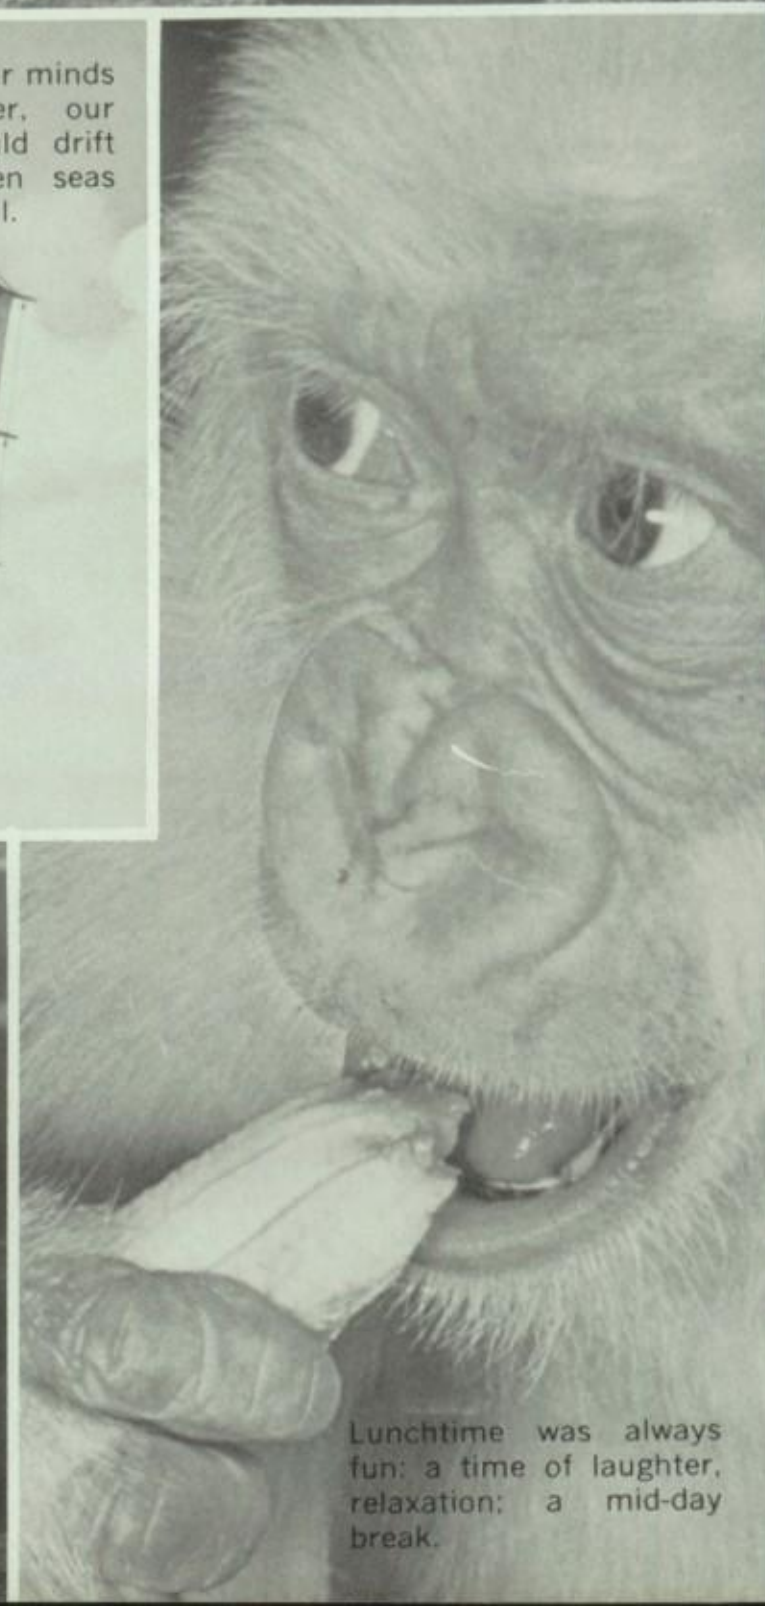

The stampede of changing classes was a moment of running into companions and quick conversations.

We all had our best buddies to rely on, to trust, to be with.

Sometimes our minds would wander, our thoughts would drift out into open seas away from it all.

Lunchtime was always fun: a time of laughter, relaxation: a mid-day break.

Our Senior class, the class of '77, has had its ups and downs
 Like most other classes. And we have the usual class clowns
 And intellectual genius scholars like most other classes.
 We have hard teachers, easy teachers, and need hall passes
 Like most other classes. We have cheerleaders and athletes
 Like most other classes. And sure, our class even meets
 To discuss topics; we have goin' steadies, term papers due
 Like most other classes. Yes, we, the class of '77, are, too,
 Like most other classes, but with a personality of our own.
 A separate individuality, tightness, closeness, togetherness known
 Only to us. Work as a group, study as a group, party as a group.
 We're all parts of a big machine that never winds down. A troupe
 Of students comprising a body with a certain special immunity
 To anything that may break it up, shake it up. We have a unity
 That can't be pulled apart. We're far from perfect, we admit;
 We've had our taste of challenges, heartbreaks, failures; a bit Too many, perhaps, but nothing to slow us down. Keep going Forward, driving ahead, striving for goals, but never knowing
 What to expect next. We have the confidence to overcome Whatever it is, though; we can conquer it. We realize some Obstacles are bigger than others, but we can handle 'em all
 As a whole, as one. We've come all these years and won't fall
 Now. We've all been together, grown together, matured together
 For a long time, now. Some days we're under the weather,
 Some days the sun's beaming in all of us. But all days
 We're a tight pack with a pact. We'll go our own ways
 Someday soon, after graduation. And there'll be tears,
 Lots of tears, lots of smooth memories of these years
 We've been close friends, companions. In different directions
 We'll scatter, and in later years we'll have the reflections
 Of the days in school. More tears, maybe. Probably smiles,
 Though, 'cause of the good times. Some of us will be miles
 Apart; some of us may never see each other ever again.
 But that's life; it's bound to happen, true, but then
 We'll have the nice remembrances, they'll always be there.
 Some of us will forever be close friends, companions, where Ever we may be. Yes, we will always have these treasures
 Of fond memories. We've had and will always have Our share of everyday struggles and pleasures . . .
 . . . like most other classes.

JUNIORS: WORKING, STUDYING,

LAUGHING, FIGHTING, TAKING IT EASY

Nancy Evans & Nancy Bell report on food of the 18th century in the new Junior class, American Studies.

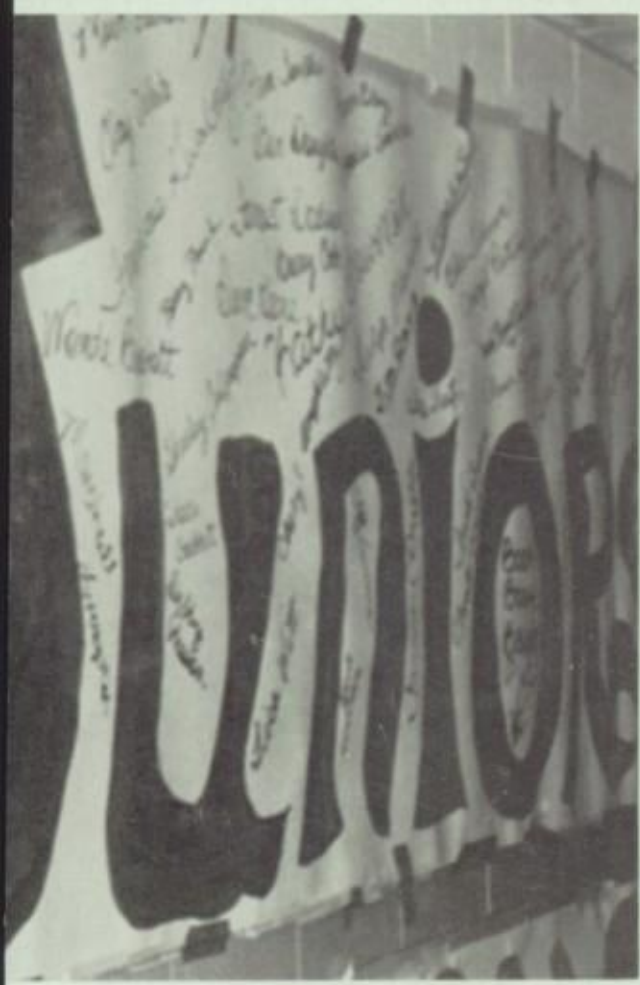

1976 began much the same for us as it did for every other Junior class — making money for the Prom in the spring. Cookie sales, concessions during games, and cleaning up after Field Day were some of the ways we did it. Homecoming was an exciting break and we came in runners up in Spirit Hall Contest and our float, titled "Bowl Over Brunswick", was another second place. The Haunted House brought in some extra legal tender on Field Day, too.

The new year found us still struggling over a theme for the Prom and organizing committees. The Slave Sale was a blast and it raised as much laughter as it did money.

Now that this year is coming to an end, it's time to begin applying to colleges and pulling up grade averages. However, we'll always remember our Junior year as the one that caused us to unite in working for a common cause.

The guys that keep us going are Billy Poarch, Treasurer; Dave Keene, Secretary; Forrest Dodson, Vice-President; and Robert Nelms, President.

Juniors were runners-up in the Hall Contest Homecoming Week and everyone sure knew who we were!

SOPHOMORES PUT IT

Diane Bradshaw gazes blissfully at Mr. Bryant.

The Sophomores have started putting things together this year. Different projects brought in money so they could begin to prepare for the prom next year. Some of these things included the Cake Walk at Field Day and a most successful supper in which everyone had a great time. Some money was also acquired from different things the Sophomores won. They were awarded for selling the most raffle tickets at Field Day. They also won the hall competition during Spirit Week for the most colorful exciting posters. But most of all everyone has begun to talk to the counselors and they have started to prepare schedules aimed at special interests in order to put it all together in the future.

HER, WORKING TOGETHER

The Freshman class began their year raising money. They won the homecoming float competition which put $125.00 in their class treasury. At Field Day the Freshmen sponsored a maze and a turkey raffle. The proceeds from these projects were well over $300.00.

Through their many projects and activities, the Freshman class has grown together in spirit. They are very close. Next year and in years to come, N-SA can expect many great things from the class of '80!

The members of the Class of '81 began their first year at Nansemond-Suffolk Academy's high school with a mixture of excitement and apprehension. Although entering high school was a big step for the eighth graders, it did not take long for them to settle into their everyday schedules. They found that there was excitement in their first float competition and Christmas Dance. They also found, however, the subjects were harder than those they had had before. The Thetamores soon learned their way around and acquainted themselves with some of their new classmates. All of the eighth graders have found that they have had to work to keep up with the pace at NSA. The Class of '81 is looking forward to next year when they will be Freshmen.

Here, the seventh grade studies the Far East.

The seventh grade has accomplished many interesting things this year. In addition to some science projects, the history classes went to a synagogue and have been studying different cultures of the world. The students of this class are very active in school functions, and are always busy. The S.C.O. is made up of lots of seventh graders. This year, something unusual happened to the seventh grade — they lost three teachers because of the same things, babies. The seventh grade is preparing for high school and should fit nicely in the high school next year.

The six grade has accomplished many new and exciting things this year. They felt bigger and more important as one more year will make them tops in the lower school. At first, the students were not accustomed to changing classes, having lockers and going over to the Upper School for P.E.; but after the first few weeks, everything seemed to fall into place.

As a class project the six graders portrayed Communists. They learned the customs and history of Russia, as well as other countries later in the year. The students really enjoyed getting involved and showed much enthusiasm in their projects. The learning experience of the six graders prompted knowledge and independence for the hard and exhilarating times in the future ahead.

Math problems are demonstrated by correct students.

Hard work is part of each day.

Learning and growing is what school is all about, and the fifth graders have done their share of both this year. They have worked with fractions, journeyed through U.S. history, and explored nuclear energy and space travel. School is not all work, however, and most fifth graders agree that their favorite school activity was playing kickball. One important thing that these students had to learn was to be more independent, since next year they will be changing classes and will have to rely more on themselves and less on their teachers.

REACHING FOR NEW LEVELS

For fourth graders, the year school begins to get a little more serious and a little tougher. Oh, sure! Everyone still has plenty of fun, but now, since the fourth graders are half way through lower school, grades become more important. Amidst the tests, homework, and fun the fourth graders went to Jamestown, an annual event for that grade level. This trip was very beneficial to the students as it helped them learn more about Virginia's history and how it began.

WORK AND LEISURE

The third grade had a busy year. They barely had time to catch their breath between studying Social Studies, living things in Science, and multiplication tables. All the hard work was balanced. They visited the Peninsula Science Center and received various treats from room mothers.

Paul Frohman returns to class after a water break.

Mrs. Birdsong and interested students go over a reading drill.

Third graders listen as their teacher instructs.

FUN AND LEARNING COME

While dressed in a Tweedie costume a second grader walks in the Halloween parade.

The second grade has had a very interesting year. In order to make the parents feel involved as well as the students, parents were invited to participate in a "Parent Share-In". Any parent who had an interesting hobby or business interest was invited to share it with the class. Programs have been presented on such subjects as: the rescue squad, home movies, Norwegian elkhounds, plants, and coin collecting. In Social Studies the boys built a boys' city and the girls built a girls' city, depicting the elements they felt their city should have. To make math more interesting the second grade played inside hopscotch with mathematical equations. During Education Week the students were allowed to teach the lesson and the teacher acted as a student. Students also went on a field trip to WAVY-TV and appeared on the one o'clock show. The second grade has been able to relate many activities to their studies.

STUDIES TO CURRICULUM

The Pep Club with help from their sponsor, Mrs. Broegler, has the sometimes impossible job of keeping up school spirit in the Lower School. To eliminate those who don't work and to keep school spirit high, the Pep Club members are on a point system. To remain in the club you must have fifteen points to be earned by making posters and attending the games.

Pep Club sponsor, Mrs. Broegler doesn't seem to have much pep at the moment.

Officers of the Pep Club are: Brian Campbell, President; Elizabeth Brothers, Vice-President; Fran Darden, Secretary; and Bruce Bangley, Treasurer.

VARIED PROJECTS SPARK INTEREST

The Art Club in order to raise money for a trip to a museum has had bake sales. Before Christmas the club made German Christmon bells to decorate the office and they plan to make either mugs or pencil holders.

Officers of the Art Club are as follows: Brian Crowson, President; Timmy Copeland, Vice-President; Johnathon Towers, Secretary; Carl Opauski, Treasurer; and Chucky Pierce, Reporter.

This year's SCO has been very busy with a number of projects going on. In the fall the club members sold spices netting a very good profit, and also they collected items for the Salvation Army. Besides this the SCO sponsored the Christmas Dance. A gift of desks for Mrs. Broegler's homeroom will be the result of all the hard work.

The Lower School SCO officers are: Carl Wimbrough, President; Henri Su, Vice-President; Sherri Pruitt, Secretary; Tessa Parker, Treasurer; Lori Bryant, Chaplain; Chris Nosly, Reporter; and Mrs. Mansfield, Sponsor.

The Forensics Club did better last year at the Forensics Meet than it has ever done before. Those students who won first place trophies were: Ann Rogers for prose reading; Steve Howell in poetry reading; the sixth grade debate team; Mary Tower for poetry reading and Linda Emmons, first negative debate speaker.

The Forensics Club has lost quite a few members who are now in the Upper School but they are expected to do just as well this year if not better.

The sixth and seventh grade Science Club is a new club here at NSA. Its membership was not very large this year but, since it is a new club it will probably grow in number. The Science Club members sold plants at the Lower School just before the Christmas holidays. These plants were ones the Club clipped, rooted and potted during October and November.

The Forensic Club sponsor is Mrs. Wills.

FORENSICS, SCIENCE, AND NEWSPAPER STRESS INVOLVEMENT

Officers of the Science Club are: Anita Kapur, Secretary; and Allison Draper, Treasurer. Mrs. Burden is the sponsor.

After making a fine showing its first year, "The Saints Liberty" has another good year on the planning board. The first edition of the Lower School Newspaper went out right before the Christmas holidays. The Staff, which is made up of seventh graders, and their sponsor, Mrs. Constantinades, plan to publish two issues this year. The purpose of the club besides printing the news is to help those who are interested in journalism.

The Newspaper's Editor-In-Chief is Fran Darden (at head of table). The other contributing editors are seated around the table.

BOOKS AND MUSIC

RAISE MONEY

The Library Club meets once a month with the purpose of learning about the library and its function. Mrs. Turner the librarian and the Library Club sponsor, teaches the club members how to work in the library and how they can help her. This year the Library Club was responsible for the Book Fair which turned out very well. The money that was made will go toward buying new books.

Library officers are as follows: David Hills, President; Allison Daily, Vice-President; Carol Coffman, Secretary; and Treasurer, Teresa Gray.

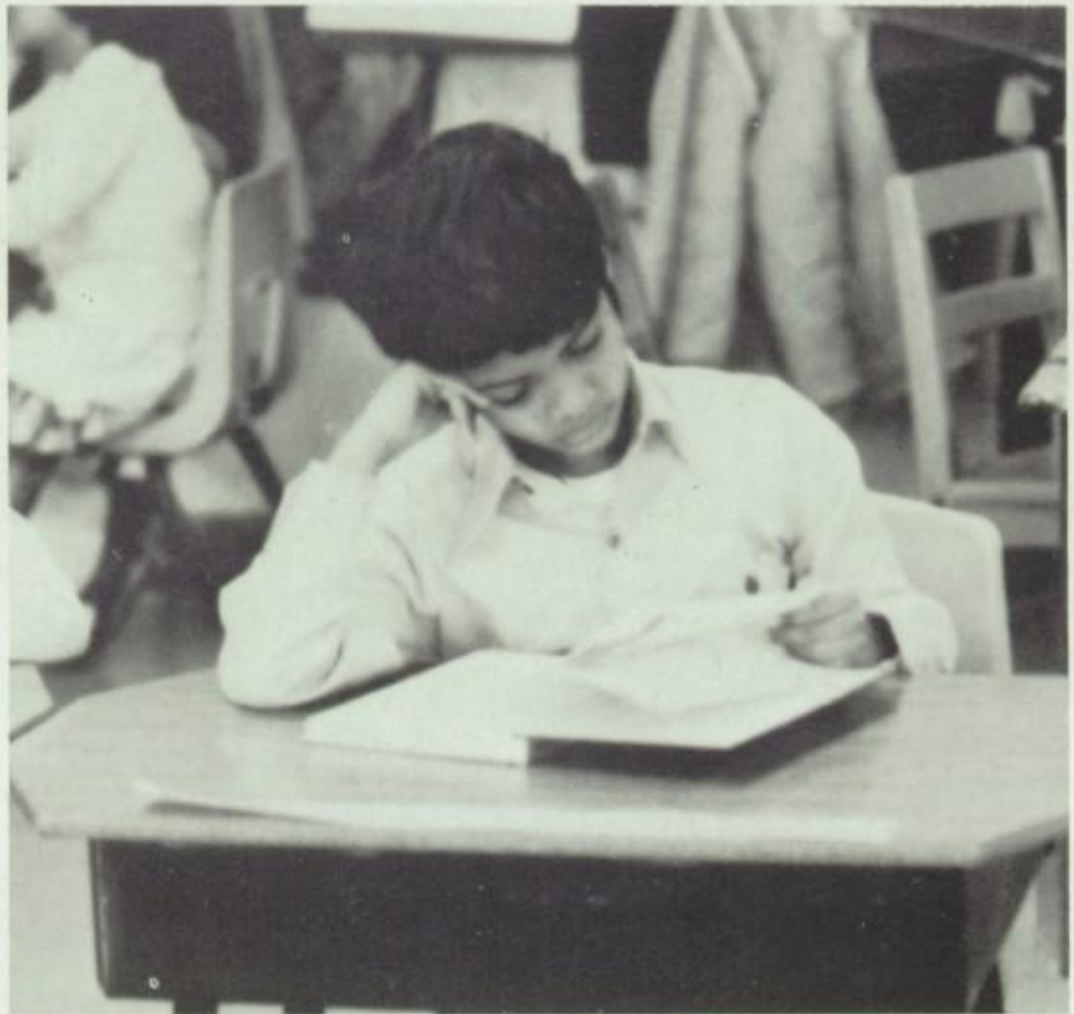

The Music Club is a club of twenty-seven, sixth and seventh graders. Besides singing, these talented students also perform. On December 17th, the Music Club presented a show for the Lower School of songs, spoken parts, and other talents. This club also learned the twist and the jitterbug with their parents help, since their sponsor, Mrs. Brennon, was too young to have known them. The group plans to attend a rock concert and with the money from fund raising projects they would like to buy an instrument for the Music Club next year.

Mrs. Turner helps a student with the difficulties of finding a book.

Part of everyday is devoted to study.

STUDY, WORK AND PLEASURE

Class work is not always stimulating.

Pausing in her work, a student considers a possible solution.

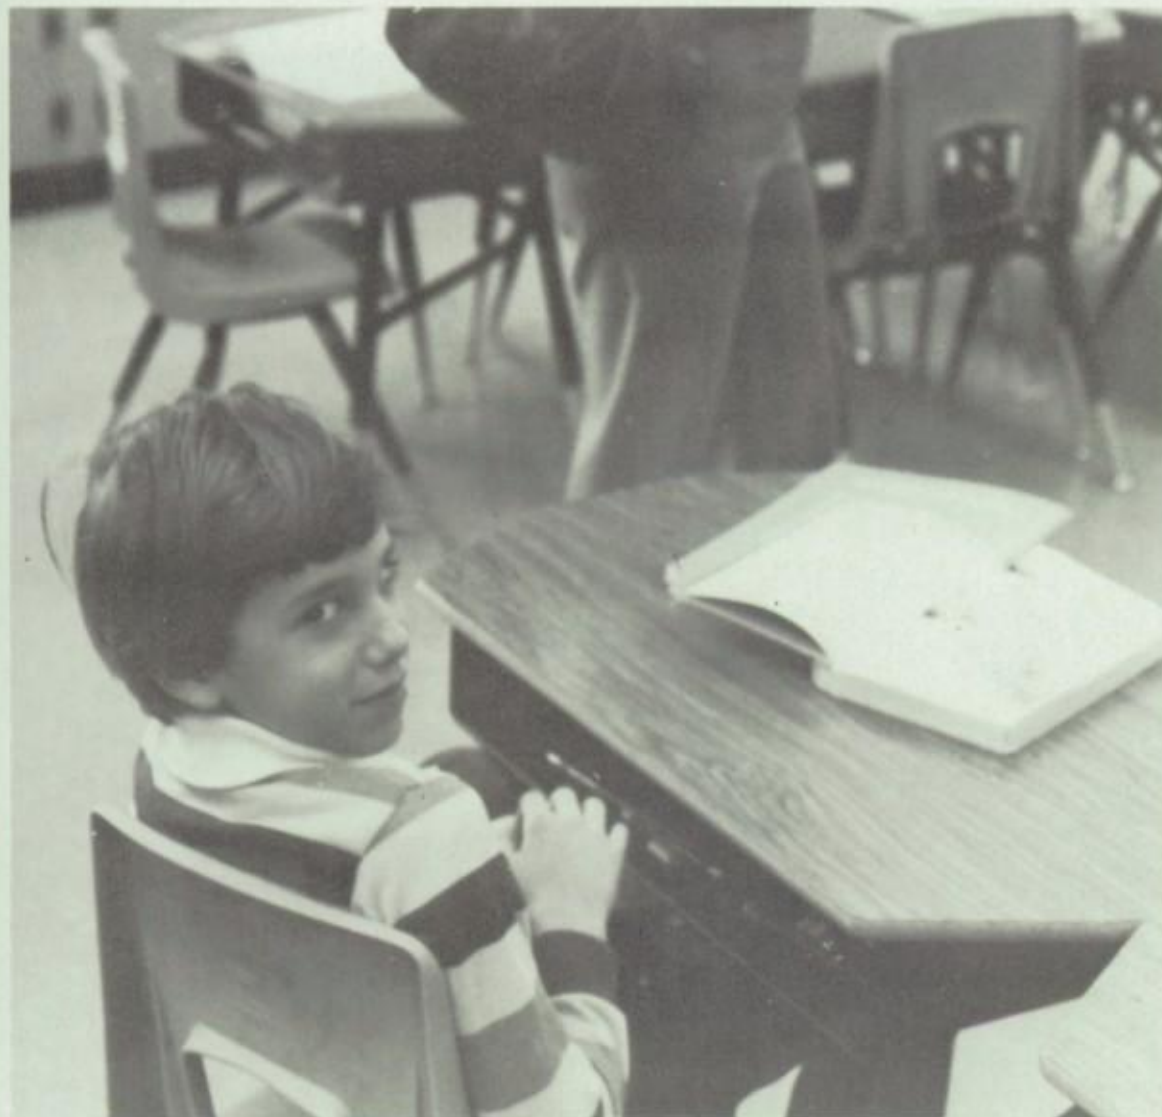

COMPRISE STUDENT LIFE

Even in a small desk things are easily lost.

Glad that the day is over this student makes his exit.

This dilligent scholar notices an intruder.

LOWER SCHOOL STUDENTS HAVE LOTS OF THINGS TO DO IN AN AVERAGE DAY

Below: This seventh grader pauses to think things out before computing on paper.

Below: A comfortable position makes listening easier for some students.

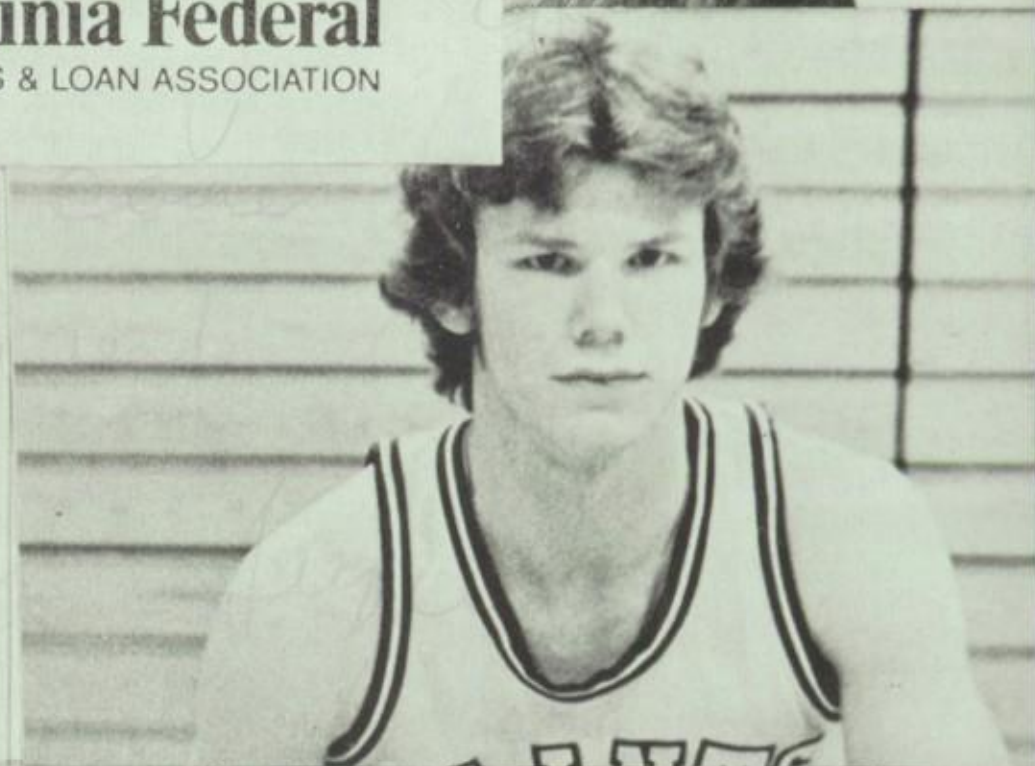

Above: Even the young like to test their creativity.

Time goes by quickly. This is true of 1976-77. Memories have slipped through our grasps; and now that we have climbed the ladder of 1977, we can reflect on sorrowful and joyful times long past.

Which images stir most quickly? — those of struggles or those of pleasures? Does your mind conjure thoughts of exams or thoughts of conquering Isle of Wight? Does your spirit soar to unsurpassed happiness or to deep despair?

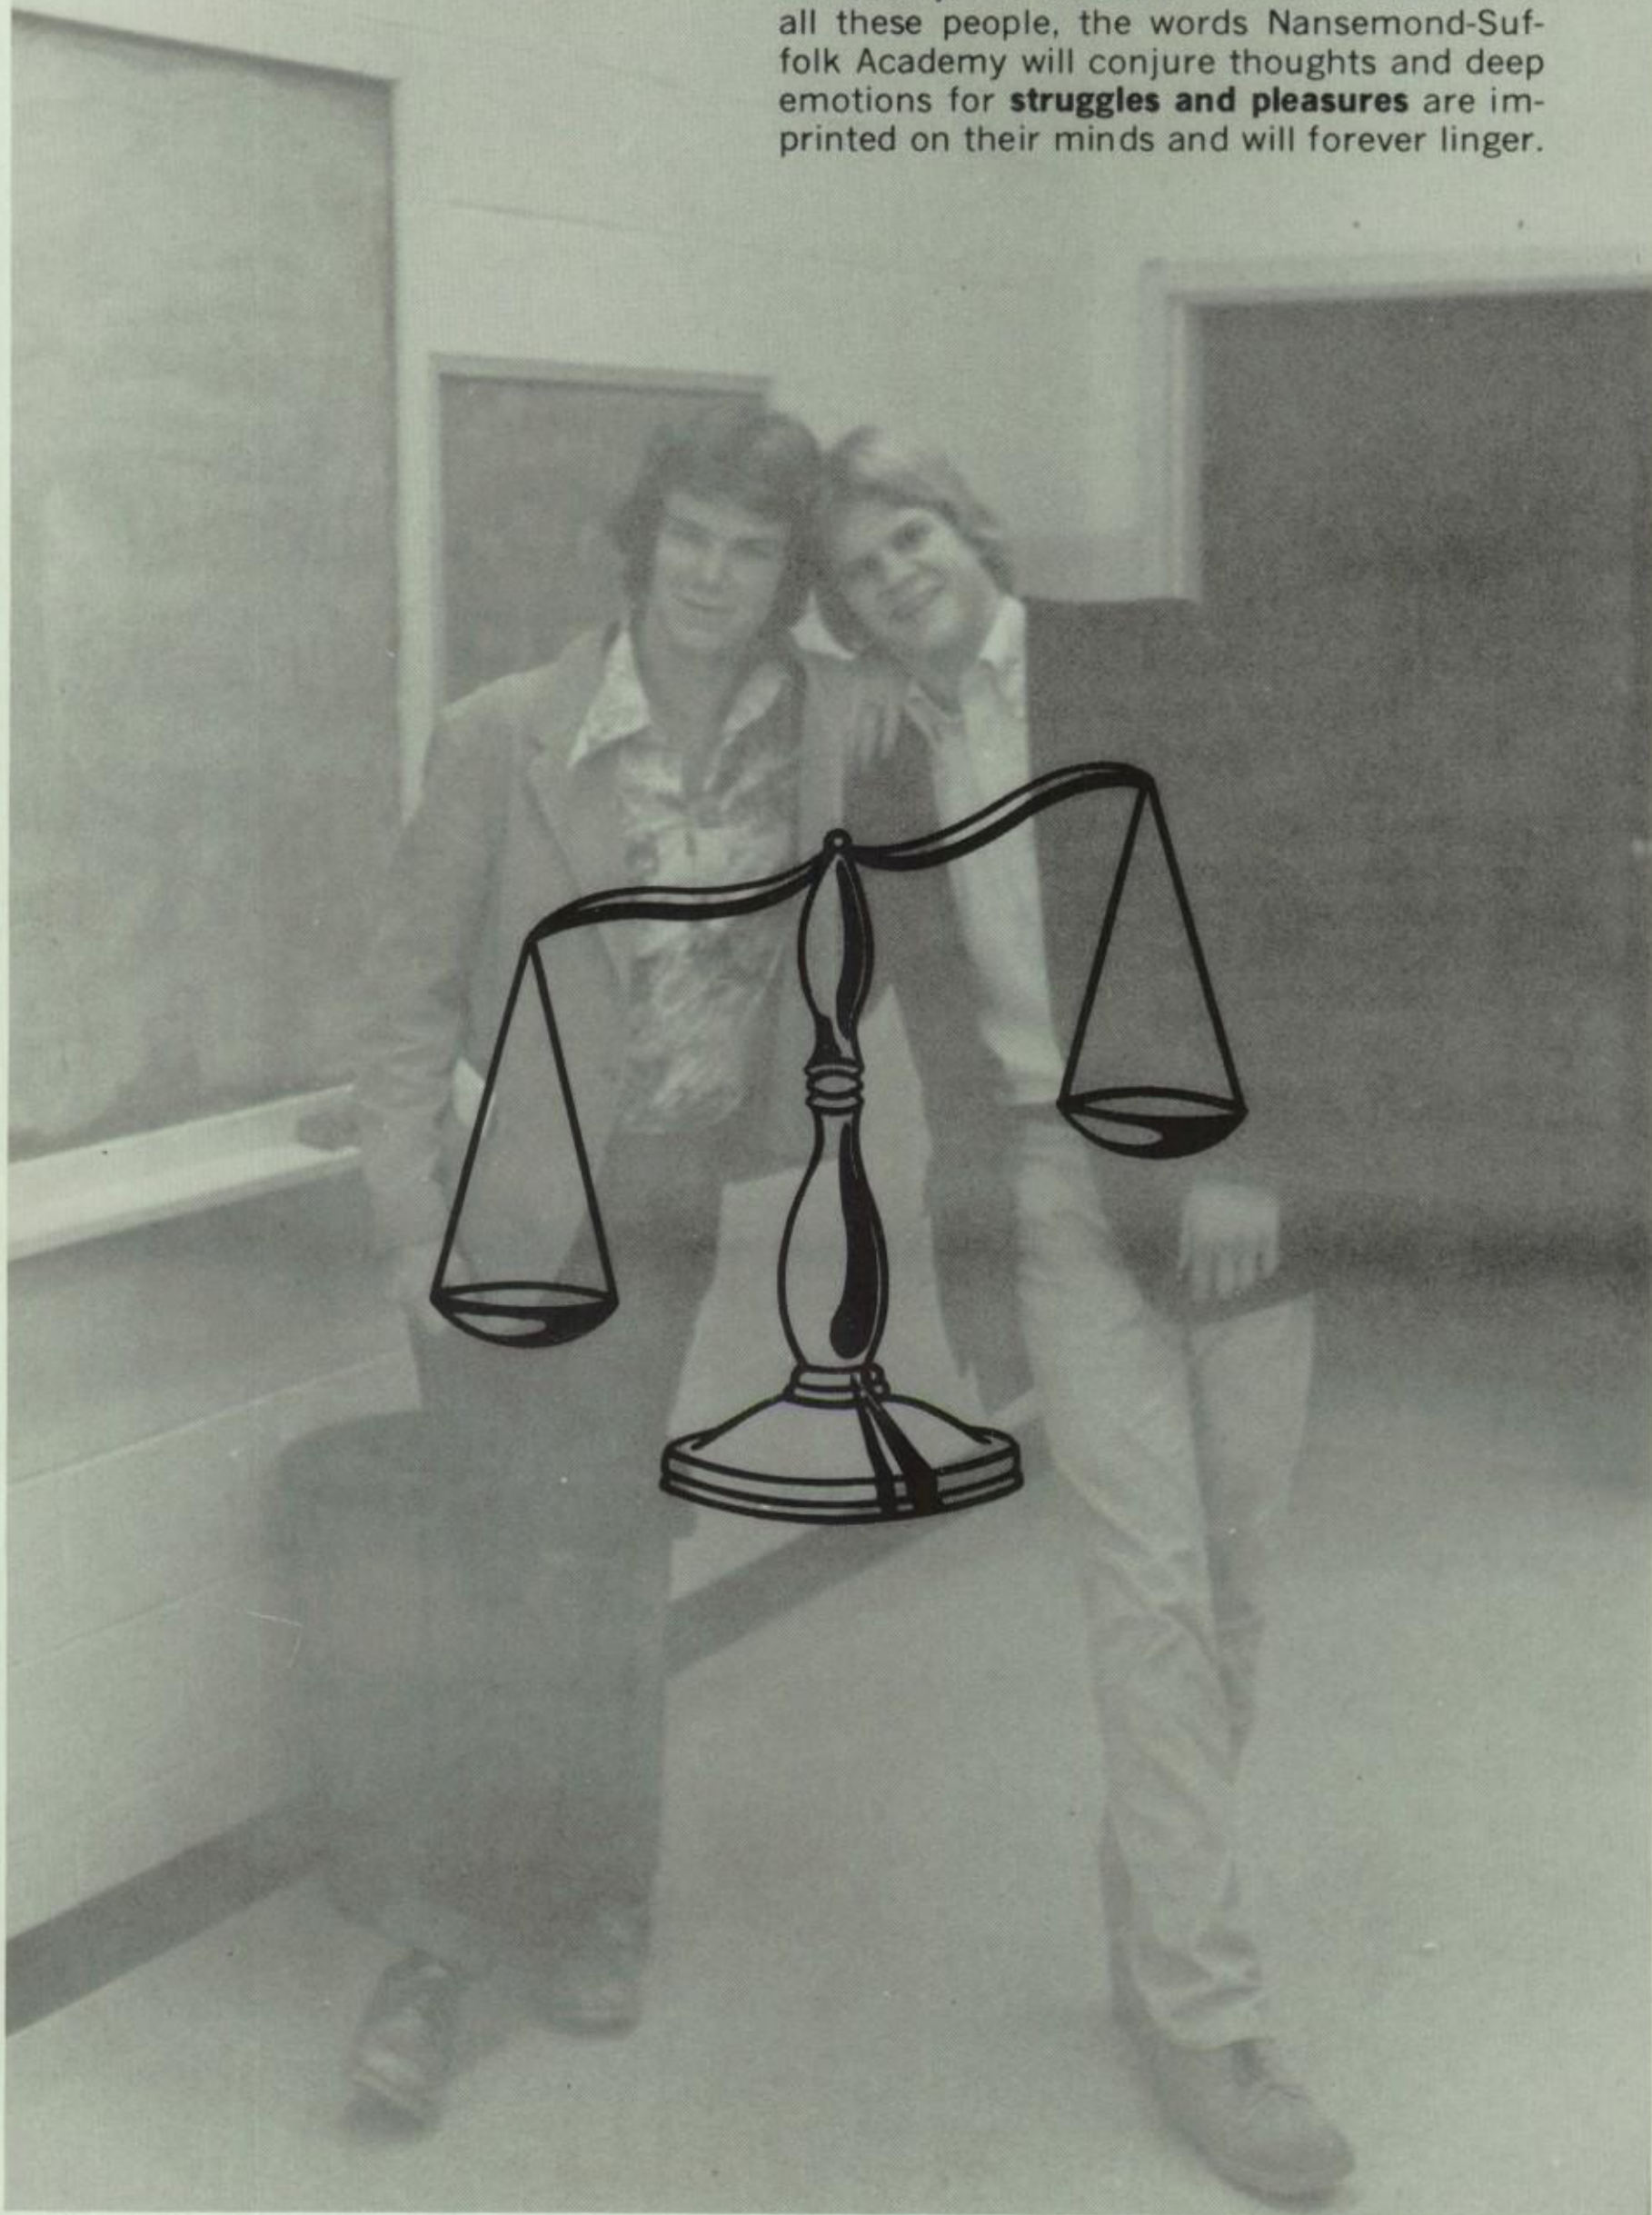

Debra,
 It's been nice knowing you this year except when you always put ~~me~~ on me. Take it easy and try to stay out of jail. Love always

As the 1977 school year closes, we see the departure of some important people who made N.S.A. the grand 'ol institution it is. What of our spirited class of '77? Next year, they will be other places, smiling their smiles for other people. Their impressions will always remain on N.S.A. for they have helped to shape its past; and, someday, they may aid in shaping its future.

What of those who are left at N.S.A.? What will happen to them? Time will pass, and they will soon join the class of '77. On the minds of all these people, the words Nansemond-Suffolk Academy will conjure thoughts and deep emotions for struggles and pleasures are imprinted on their minds and will forever linger.

Debra, you were in all of my classes this year, great! Well, maybe next year, the same thing, maybe. You're a great friend to have and I might even see you this summer. Have a great one anyway.
Hasta Luego!

Debra, you are always nice even when I cut you down. Stay nice & sweet. I might see you this summer.

John Kantor

Debra, It was really great being in Spanish class with you. Maybe we will have more class together next year. You are a very sweet girl and I hope you will stay that way. Have a nice summer and I'll see you next year.

Somehow or another I managed to have fun in there anyway. Right? Debra, Mrs. Giffen's class was boring & she is stupid. That's why I always get kicked out.

Debra, it sure has been nice being in Geography and English classes with you. Maybe next year we'll be in some classes together. Have a great summer and I'll see you next year. Good luck always.

Dianne Saunders
Good Luck in the many years to come.

Sherr

Best of luck in Andy
Good Luck w/ Randy

Don't forget to write me a nice letter when you see me. Love, Mrs. White

Debra,

Well, it's just about over! Everyone is getting sick of school by now! It has really been great having you in Science and Gym. You have been one of the greatest friends all year! Write or call me this summer!

Love always,
Jeanie B.

Debra,

We have gotten to know each other pretty well this year. It was really fun on those long basketball trips because of all the ~~to~~ bidding we did.

I hope to see you sometime this summer but if I don't have a guest or anyway.

See you next year.

Your friend

Jeanie B. Howell

Debra,
I've enjoyed being in your English class this year even though I wasn't in there much. I've also enjoyed talking to you about all the good times you had at dances. Good luck in cheering and have a nice summer.

Steve

Dear

I am very glad to hear that you are well. I hope you will be able to visit me soon. I am always thinking of you and hope you are happy. I am
 your friend,
 J. H.
